

SATTERFIELD IS GIVEN NEW CHANCE FOR LIFE,
SLAYER RESPITED WHILE WALKER STUDIES CASE*Old Favorites To Present "Fedora" Tonight*GIORDANO'S OPERA
WILL SHOW STAR SINGERS AT BEST

Martinelli, Antonio Scotti, Ellen Dalossy, Florence Easton and Marion in Leading Roles.

GIGLI WINS OVATION IN "RIGOLETTO" ROLE

Tremendous Enthusiasm Greeted Work of Bori, Didur, De Luca and Wakefield on Tuesday.

BY PIERRE VAN PAASSEN.

From the stark and terrific realism of "Boris Godunoff," through the highly colorful and romantic "Rigoletto" of Verdi, the Metropolitan Opera company is preparing to stage to-night Giordano's lyric of intrigue and pictorial beauty, "Fedora."

Martinelli, Antonio Scotti, Ellen Dalossy, Florence Easton and Queena Mario constitute the magnificent combination which is going to thrill Atlanta in the fifth presentation of the season.

Benjamin Gigli gave proof Thursday afternoon that he is fully entitled to the tribute of being the most notable tenor since Caruso. In the role of the duke his voice of liquid purity has found an ideally suitable vehicle to his superb singing.

Great Enthusiasm Shown.

As has been the case in the past, that most charming of all operatic quartets, this time in a combination of Gigli's golden tenor, Bori's appealing and passionate coloratura soprano, De Luca's swaying emotional voice and Henriette Wakefield's tender notes, was received with tremendous enthusiasm by the audience that packed the auditorium at the matinee.

Observers and critics are unanimous that the present opera season in Atlanta is surpassing the performances of past seasons in beauty, in variety of theme, in dramatic genius and romantic coloring. If "Boris Godunoff" were Chaliapin's triumph through his Gargantuan personality and his undisputed genius, "Rigoletto" from the voices of De Luca, Gigli, Bori, Wakefield and Didur was another sublime tribute to that much criticized master, Verdi, whose works despite the passage of years and the birth of new schools still enjoy the undivided favor of the public.

What then causes this phlegmatic, cool Anglo-Saxon race to go into raptures over the romantic, swaggering intrigues and passion of the colorful Latin emotionalism? Is it the joyous zest or the mysterious plotting and counter-plotting, the risking of life and limb for love or the Borgian and Dumasian qualities of plotting and conspiring?

Romance Is the Answer.
No, the appeal lies in romance. Ro-

Continued on Page 4, Column 3.

Infant Injured
When Cars Hit
Baby Carriage

Auto and Truck Mount Sidewalk—Both Drivers Are Arrested.

Charlotte Louise Kitchens, 16-month-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Kitchens, 380 Gordon street, narrowly escaped death Thursday afternoon, when thrown from her carriage which was struck by an auto and a motor truck at Gordon and Queen streets.

The infant was severely bruised about the back, her face lacerated and a foot mashed. She is under the care of the family physician.

The negro nurse, Mary Jones, who was knocked down while trying to protect the child, escaped with minor cuts and bruises.

The auto was driven by Mrs. W. W. Daniel, of 552 Walnut street, while a negro, Andrew Davis, was operating the truck. Both were arrested, by Officer M. A. Hornsby under charges of reckless driving.

Mrs. Daniel and the negro were both going east on Gordon street, according to the report filed by Officer Hornsby. Both attempted to turn to the right at Queen street, the machines running together and mounting the sidewalk.

No Time for Blues When Opera Stars Come to Atlanta

Photograph by Mathewson & Price, Staff Photographers.

Triple Tragedy of Frozen Trap Lines
PLAYED CARCASSES OF SILVER FOX REVEAL MURDER MOTIVE
Bared When Thaw Unlocks Ice Casket

Bend, Ore., April 24.—Treachery alone could have slain the three Lava Lake trappers without a grim battle, declared their pals Thursday, as the hunt began for persons who shot each from behind.

"Somebody got the drop on them, or they wouldn't have gone like that. It was sneakin' sort of fellow that shot them—because them boys could take care of themselves in the open, with half a chance."

Thus spoke Allen Wilcoxen, proprietor of Elk Lake resort and last person to see Dewey Morris, Ed Nichols and Roy Wilson alive, when he learned they had been murdered.

"We ought to get the devil who did it," he added.

That was the way all the Hardy woodsmen and trappers talked as the word of the triple murder spread around.

Bodies of the three trappers were found late Wednesday night in the waters of Elk lake, when the winter's ice broke.

Morris was 30 years old, Nichols 35, and Wilson 35. They were typical trappers, with bearded faces, rough clothing and heavy boots worn from tramping miles over their trap lines.

Wilcoxen last saw them when he visited their cabin January 15.

Weeks passed, and the trappers were unheard from. The county store at La Pine, the nearest settlement, was the starting point of the quarry.

"Where are those Lava Lake boys?"

Finally a searching party went to the cabin. Everything was in order within the log shack.

The only living thing about the place was an emaciated cat, which could tell no tales except that the trappers had long been absent.

Then a blood-covered sled by the lakeside and a hole out from shore in the ice gave hint to the fate of the trappers.

The searching party waited until the ice broke up—and their expectations were fulfilled.

A bullet hole through the back of each trapper's head told too plainly what had happened. One by one they had been cut from the cabin, and from ambush.

"That's the sneakiest way to kill a man," the discoverers observed.

Now the primitive call for justice has been sent out among hardy trappers, and rugged settlers of the Lava Lake districts.

To them the missing winter's catch of pelts and the skinned carcasses of the five foxes of the "Fox farm" near the cabin plainly showed that robbery had been the motive.

"How about that Charles Kimzey fellow?" said one thoughtful settler at the La Pine store. Kimzey was a straggler who had wandered into the district and worked at the lake last summer. When he left, he stole some of the signature of President Coolidge to become law and, under the circumstances, the attorney general believes would not be the part of wisdom to bring a large colony of Japanese from California to Georgia, as suggested.

Mr. Napier's opinion was asked by the commissioners of immigration when G. Anderson, of south Georgia, advised that official that he was considering a proposal to bring a colony of Japs to this state from California to develop neglected rice plantations on the Satilla river, in Camden county.

The proposal was that the Japs should either purchase or lease the property.

Have Right To Own Land.

Under the Georgia law, Mr. Napier points out, Japanese have the legal right to buy or lease lands in this state. The statute dealing with this question provides that subjects of governments at peace with the United States have the same rights as citizens of other states resident in this state, with the privilege of purchasing, holding and conveying real estate in Georgia.

The attorney general states that the question of bringing Japs from another state into Georgia does not come properly under the jurisdiction of the state, but the purpose of the bill and it is not his purpose "to advise or give any advice upon the subject."

"However," he continues, "I would be delighted in my duty not to say that we already have one race question in

Continued on Page 7, Column 1.

Street Car Comes
To Aid of Lovers Stranded in Auto*Trolley Tows Machine Into City When Engine Goes Dead.

The night was dark; it was 12:20 o'clock.

The engine refused to function. A young man and his best girl were in an automobile between Atlanta and Decatur on the main line of the trolley system.

The incoming trolley car came rushing toward Atlanta.

Nearing Spruce street the motorman suddenly cut down his speed. An automobile was disputing the right-of-way.

The motorman had just picked up a towing chain in Decatur that had been lost by someone.

When the trolley car came to a stop, the obliging motorman and conductor got out and rolled the automobile from the car track.

The occupants were in a dilemma—12:25 o'clock, with a dead engine, his best girl and no service in the immediate vicinity available.

A hasty consultation ensued. The motorman, who had picked up the towing chain, offered to tow the car to town.

The proffer was eagerly accepted. With the tow chain, the conductor

Continued on Page 7, Column 2.

3 BALLOONS DOWN
IN BIG AIR RACE*Four Remaining Drifting
Northeastward More Than 1,000 Miles From Starting Point.*BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.

Kansas City, Mo., April 24.—Four of the seven balloons which took the air late Wednesday at Kelly Field, San Antonio, Texas, in the national balloon elimination race, were still up early tonight tracing their way through uncharted and, in some cases, stormy paths toward the uncertain goal of the contest.

As darkness came on the second day of the race, the remaining contestants, approximately 1,000 miles from the starting point, were drifting rapidly northeastward with the right-of-way.

The motorman had just picked up a towing chain in Decatur that had been lost by someone.

When the trolley car came to a stop, the obliging motorman and conductor got out and rolled the automobile from the car track.

The occupants were in a dilemma—12:25 o'clock, with a dead engine, his best girl and no service in the immediate vicinity available.

A hasty consultation ensued. The motorman, who had picked up the towing chain, offered to tow the car to town.

The proffer was eagerly accepted. With the tow chain, the conductor

Continued on Page 7, Column 2.

NAPIER ADVISES AGAINST GEORGIA COLONY OF JAPS*Declares Settlement Proposal for Rice Lands Would Not Be Advisable at Present Time.

Establishment of a colony of Japanese rice farmers in south Georgia, which was proposed recently, would not be advisable at this time, according to an opinion handed down Thursday by Attorney General George M. Napier.

Mr. Napier bases his conclusions on the fact that the national congress has recently passed legislation excluding Japanese from this country. The bill is now awaiting the signature of President Coolidge to become law and, under the circumstances, the attorney general believes would not be the part of wisdom to bring a large colony of Japanese from California to Georgia, as suggested.

Mr. Napier's opinion was asked by the commissioners of immigration when G. Anderson, of south Georgia, advised that official that he was considering a proposal to bring a colony of Japs to this state from California to develop neglected rice plantations on the Satilla river, in Camden county.

The proposal was that the Japs should either purchase or lease the property.

Have Right To Own Land.

Under the Georgia law, Mr. Napier points out, Japanese have the legal right to buy or lease lands in this state. The statute dealing with this question provides that subjects of governments at peace with the United States have the same rights as citizens of other states resident in this state, with the privilege of purchasing, holding and conveying real estate in Georgia.

The attorney general states that the question of bringing Japs from another state into Georgia does not come properly under the jurisdiction of the state, but the purpose of the bill and it is not his purpose "to advise or give any advice upon the subject."

"However," he continues, "I would be delighted in my duty not to say that we already have one race question in

Continued on Page 7, Column 1.

CHILD, 6, KILLED IN FALL OFF AUTO ON MACON ROAD

Macon, Ga., April 24.—(Special)—Billy Cherry, 6-year-old son of Mrs. Lillie Rammage, was killed today when he fell from a truck en route from Popes Ferry, Ga., to Macon. The truck was driven by C. M. Johnson.

The child was the adopted son of Mrs. T. E. Cherry, of Popes Ferry. The body will be buried here tomorrow.

The body was taken to Hunter-

Blanchard undertaking establishment, and funeral arrangements will be announced later.

C. V. Herrin, of 41 Broyles street,

Continued on Page 2, Column 2.

Youth Is Killed
And Two Friends Injured in Crash*Willie G. Lee Meets Instant Death When Automobile Dashes Into Bellwood Ave. Viaduct.*POLICE ARE SEARCHING FOR MISSING VICTIMS

C. V. Herrin, His Wife and Their Five Children Are Injured in Another
Crash Thursday Night.

Willie G. Lee, 19, of Chestnut street, is dead, his two companions are believed to be seriously injured, and seven other persons were hurt in two automobile accidents Thursday night.

Lee was killed instantly when the light truck in which he was riding crashed into the Bellwood avenue viaduct at 11 o'clock, throwing him out of the machine. His skull was crushed when his head struck the beam.

Police are searching for the other occupants of the car, who witnesses told Call Officers Goode and Bullard, disappeared after the accident.

It is thought that both are badly injured, and it is known that at least one of them was knocked unconscious by the crash, but a check of hospitals at midnight Thursday showed that neither had been given treatment at any hospital.

Details Not Learned.

Few details of the fatal mishap could be learned Thursday night. W. J. Crooke, of R. F. D. Route 3, who was passing at the time of the smash, stated that the dead car was traveling at a high rate of speed, and was unable to negotiate the curve from Bellwood avenue into the viaduct. He stopped and ran to the scene, following the accident, but when he saw all three men on the ground, apparently unconscious, he ran to notify police. When the police arrived they found Lee's body, but were not able to locate his comrades.

Massengill was southern representative for the McCray Refrigerator company, of Kendallville, Ind.; the Hobart Manufacturing company, of Troy, Ohio, and the United States Slicing Machine company.

In addition to his widow, Mr. Massengill is survived by two children, Catherine Jane and John B. Massengill, Jr., his parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Massengill, of Hazelhurst, Miss., and a sister, Mrs. E. E. Burke, of Hazelhurst.

Funeral services will be held at 2 o'clock this afternoon from the chapel of Greenberg & Bond, and the body will be taken to New Orleans tonight.

Rev. J. Sprule Lyons will conduct the services, which will be charged

Continued on Page 2, Column 2.

MASSENGILL LOSES
BATTLE FOR LIFE*Blood and Saline Trans-fusions Unable To Save Business Man Who Shot Himself.

The battle waged by doctors at the Grady hospital to save the life of J. B. Massengill, well-known Atlanta business man, who shot himself in the breast Wednesday afternoon, was lost Thursday night when death came at 6:50 o'clock.

He reached the hospital about 6 o'clock Wednesday night after he had suffered severely from loss of blood. The bullet missed the heart, severing a large blood vessel and puncturing the lung, through which it passed as it went out under the left shoulder blade.

Transfusion of normal saline solution was begun immediately and the patient showed signs of rallying for a time, then began to

It is claimed by the slayer that he left his two young daughters in the keeping of Hart and another sister of his deceased wife, a Mrs. Stuebey, of Albuquerque, N. M., and that the girls did not receive the proper care in these hands.

On the other hand, it is claimed by the prosecution and by Mrs. Hart, the widow, that Satterfield was simply enraged because he did not have the control of his wife's estate, and that the killing was the result of a sordid quarrel over money matters.

Made Insanity Claim.

The official defense made at Satterfield's trial was one of insanity, the defendant making a statement on the stand and relying upon the sanity plea entirely.

Satterfield escaped after the shooting and was arrested more than a year later, when he was returned to this state and tried and convicted in Fulton superior court. Appeals for new trial were carried to the supreme court and refused, and after this the prison commissioners refused to recommend clemency, leaving the sole remaining hope for the condemned man in commutation at the hands of the governor.

Satterfield was the central figure in a recent mystery plane race. Fully trained to do so, he was recaptured 24 hours after he gained his freedom, while in some woods near Lakewood.

YOUTH IS KILLED AND TWO INJURED

Continued from First Page.

his wife, and their five children were slightly injured when the car in which they were riding collided with a machine driven by two boys. George Peltier d'Oisy, expert long distance flier, is racing eastward over Europe in an endeavor to make the fastest distance flight in history.

Flying from Villa Coublay that

Thursday, the daring aviator began his last cross country race, the United News learns that he was intended to make Constantinople in a non-stop flight if possible. Otherwise he may stop at Bucharest, after crossing France, Switzerland, Austria, Hungary and Romania in one jump.

Closest reports received here state that he was sighted flying over Budapest, Hungary, at 1:10 p. m. heading toward Bucharest.

Closest secrecy surrounds every phase of the exploit. The air ministry did not announce the departure of d'Oisy from France, but he intended to make Constantinople in a non-stop flight if possible. Otherwise he may stop at Bucharest, after crossing France, Switzerland, Austria, Hungary and Romania in one jump.

Closest secrecy surrounds every phase of the exploit. The air ministry did not announce the departure of d'Oisy from France, but he intended to make Constantinople in a non-stop flight if possible. Otherwise he may stop at Bucharest, after crossing France, Switzerland, Austria, Hungary and Romania in one jump.

But in effect, France has entered the long distance air race in which the American flyers and the British airplane experts are participating. Most careful preparations have been made for the attempt to show French predominance in the air. It is believed that one aim of the expedition is to beat the British racer to Japan.

Japanese military and naval authorities witnessed d'Oisy's departure on special occasions.

The airplane is a special type. Recently tested for the flight.

Officials of the Breguet company, which aided in the organization of the flight, were irritated when they learned that their secret plans had been uncovered. Both the company and the air ministry hoped to keep the dash secret until the flight was nearly or entirely accomplished, and also to keep it secret if the flight failed.

M. Metatal, one of the directors of the Breguet company, refused to give any details of the plane or its equipment.

"We specially requested that nothing be made public, and asked the newspapers not to publish anything," he said.

The United News learns, however,

that d'Oisy is flying a long-distance army bomber with a 400-horse power Lorraine motor. He started with 1,900 liters of gasoline.

It is reported at Villa Coublay that the pilot is accompanied by only one mechanic.

From Constantinople, his route will lie over Turkey, Syria, Mesopotamia and on to the Persian gulf.

He hopes to make this huge flight also.

The route of the French flyer beyond the Persian gulf is still secret.

NEW INCENTIVE TO U. S. BIRDMEN.

Washington, April 24.—(United

News)—American air service officials did not announce the departure of the French flyer on its mission for the attempt to show French predominance in the air. It is believed that one aim of the expedition is to beat the British racer to Japan.

Japanese military and naval authorities witnessed d'Oisy's departure on special occasions.

The airplane is a special type. Recently tested for the flight.

Officials of the Breguet company, which aided in the organization of the flight, were irritated when they learned that their secret plans had been uncovered. Both the company and the air ministry hoped to keep the dash secret until the flight was nearly or entirely accomplished, and also to keep it secret if the flight failed.

M. Metatal, one of the directors of the Breguet company, refused to give any details of the plane or its equipment.

"We specially requested that nothing be made public, and asked the newspapers not to publish anything," he said.

The United News learns, however,

that d'Oisy is flying a long-distance army bomber with a 400-horse power Lorraine motor. He started with 1,900 liters of gasoline.

It is reported at Villa Coublay that the pilot is accompanied by only one mechanic.

From Constantinople, his route will lie over Turkey, Syria, Mesopotamia and on to the Persian gulf.

He hopes to make this huge flight also.

The route of the French flyer beyond the Persian gulf is still secret.

NEW INCENTIVE TO U. S. BIRDMEN.

Washington, April 24.—(United

News)—American air service officials did not announce the departure of the French flyer on its mission for the attempt to show French predominance in the air. It is believed that one aim of the expedition is to beat the British racer to Japan.

Japanese military and naval authorities witnessed d'Oisy's departure on special occasions.

The airplane is a special type. Recently tested for the flight.

Officials of the Breguet company, which aided in the organization of the flight, were irritated when they learned that their secret plans had been uncovered. Both the company and the air ministry hoped to keep the dash secret until the flight was nearly or entirely accomplished, and also to keep it secret if the flight failed.

M. Metatal, one of the directors of the Breguet company, refused to give any details of the plane or its equipment.

"We specially requested that nothing be made public, and asked the newspapers not to publish anything," he said.

The United News learns, however,

that d'Oisy is flying a long-distance army bomber with a 400-horse power Lorraine motor. He started with 1,900 liters of gasoline.

It is reported at Villa Coublay that the pilot is accompanied by only one mechanic.

From Constantinople, his route will lie over Turkey, Syria, Mesopotamia and on to the Persian gulf.

He hopes to make this huge flight also.

The route of the French flyer beyond the Persian gulf is still secret.

NEW INCENTIVE TO U. S. BIRDMEN.

Washington, April 24.—(United

News)—American air service officials did not announce the departure of the French flyer on its mission for the attempt to show French predominance in the air. It is believed that one aim of the expedition is to beat the British racer to Japan.

Japanese military and naval authorities witnessed d'Oisy's departure on special occasions.

The airplane is a special type. Recently tested for the flight.

Officials of the Breguet company, which aided in the organization of the flight, were irritated when they learned that their secret plans had been uncovered. Both the company and the air ministry hoped to keep the dash secret until the flight was nearly or entirely accomplished, and also to keep it secret if the flight failed.

M. Metatal, one of the directors of the Breguet company, refused to give any details of the plane or its equipment.

"We specially requested that nothing be made public, and asked the newspapers not to publish anything," he said.

The United News learns, however,

that d'Oisy is flying a long-distance army bomber with a 400-horse power Lorraine motor. He started with 1,900 liters of gasoline.

It is reported at Villa Coublay that the pilot is accompanied by only one mechanic.

From Constantinople, his route will lie over Turkey, Syria, Mesopotamia and on to the Persian gulf.

He hopes to make this huge flight also.

The route of the French flyer beyond the Persian gulf is still secret.

NEW INCENTIVE TO U. S. BIRDMEN.

Washington, April 24.—(United

News)—American air service officials did not announce the departure of the French flyer on its mission for the attempt to show French predominance in the air. It is believed that one aim of the expedition is to beat the British racer to Japan.

Japanese military and naval authorities witnessed d'Oisy's departure on special occasions.

The airplane is a special type. Recently tested for the flight.

Officials of the Breguet company, which aided in the organization of the flight, were irritated when they learned that their secret plans had been uncovered. Both the company and the air ministry hoped to keep the dash secret until the flight was nearly or entirely accomplished, and also to keep it secret if the flight failed.

M. Metatal, one of the directors of the Breguet company, refused to give any details of the plane or its equipment.

"We specially requested that nothing be made public, and asked the newspapers not to publish anything," he said.

The United News learns, however,

that d'Oisy is flying a long-distance army bomber with a 400-horse power Lorraine motor. He started with 1,900 liters of gasoline.

It is reported at Villa Coublay that the pilot is accompanied by only one mechanic.

From Constantinople, his route will lie over Turkey, Syria, Mesopotamia and on to the Persian gulf.

He hopes to make this huge flight also.

The route of the French flyer beyond the Persian gulf is still secret.

NEW INCENTIVE TO U. S. BIRDMEN.

Washington, April 24.—(United

News)—American air service officials did not announce the departure of the French flyer on its mission for the attempt to show French predominance in the air. It is believed that one aim of the expedition is to beat the British racer to Japan.

Japanese military and naval authorities witnessed d'Oisy's departure on special occasions.

The airplane is a special type. Recently tested for the flight.

Officials of the Breguet company, which aided in the organization of the flight, were irritated when they learned that their secret plans had been uncovered. Both the company and the air ministry hoped to keep the dash secret until the flight was nearly or entirely accomplished, and also to keep it secret if the flight failed.

M. Metatal, one of the directors of the Breguet company, refused to give any details of the plane or its equipment.

"We specially requested that nothing be made public, and asked the newspapers not to publish anything," he said.

The United News learns, however,

that d'Oisy is flying a long-distance army bomber with a 400-horse power Lorraine motor. He started with 1,900 liters of gasoline.

It is reported at Villa Coublay that the pilot is accompanied by only one mechanic.

From Constantinople, his route will lie over Turkey, Syria, Mesopotamia and on to the Persian gulf.

He hopes to make this huge flight also.

The route of the French flyer beyond the Persian gulf is still secret.

NEW INCENTIVE TO U. S. BIRDMEN.

Washington, April 24.—(United

News)—American air service officials did not announce the departure of the French flyer on its mission for the attempt to show French predominance in the air. It is believed that one aim of the expedition is to beat the British racer to Japan.

Japanese military and naval authorities witnessed d'Oisy's departure on special occasions.

The airplane is a special type. Recently tested for the flight.

Officials of the Breguet company, which aided in the organization of the flight, were irritated when they learned that their secret plans had been uncovered. Both the company and the air ministry hoped to keep the dash secret until the flight was nearly or entirely accomplished, and also to keep it secret if the flight failed.

M. Metatal, one of the directors of the Breguet company, refused to give any details of the plane or its equipment.

"We specially requested that nothing be made public, and asked the newspapers not to publish anything," he said.

The United News learns, however,

that d'Oisy is flying a long-distance army bomber with a 400-horse power Lorraine motor. He started with 1,900 liters of gasoline.

It is reported at Villa Coublay that the pilot is accompanied by only one mechanic.

From Constantinople, his route will lie over Turkey, Syria, Mesopotamia and on to the Persian gulf.

He hopes to make this huge flight also.

The route of the French flyer beyond the Persian gulf is still secret.

NEW INCENTIVE TO U. S. BIRDMEN.

Washington, April 24.—(United

News)—American air service officials did not announce the departure of the French flyer on its mission for the attempt to show French predominance in the air. It is believed that one aim of the expedition is to beat the British racer to Japan.

Japanese military and naval authorities witnessed d'Oisy's departure on special occasions.

The airplane is a special type. Recently tested for the flight.

Officials of the Breguet company, which aided in the organization of the flight, were irritated when they learned that their secret plans had been uncovered. Both the company and the air ministry hoped to keep the dash secret until the flight was nearly or entirely accomplished, and also to keep it secret if the flight failed.

M. Metatal, one of the directors of the Breguet company, refused to give any details of the plane or its equipment.

"We specially requested that nothing be made public, and asked the newspapers not to publish anything," he said.

The United News learns, however,

that d'Oisy is flying a long-distance army bomber with a 400-horse power Lorraine motor. He started with 1,900 liters of gasoline.

It is reported at Villa Coublay that the pilot is accompanied by only one mechanic.

From Constantinople, his route will lie over Turkey, Syria, Mesopotamia and on to the Persian gulf.

He hopes to make this

FREE SEED PLAN DEFINITELY DEAD

Washington, April 24.—Champions of free seeds went down to defeat a second time in the house Thursday, despite the balmy spring atmosphere. A last minute attempt to insert $300,000 for distribution of seeds in the agricultural department appropriation bill failed by a vote of 111 to 207. This is the second time that free seed advocates have fought for the appropriation.

After this action, the house passed the agricultural department measure. It carries an appropriation of approximately $50,000,000.

WEALTHY YOUNG GIRL HELD AS HORSETHIEF

New York, April 24.—Helen Hayes, 26 years old, said to be the daughter of a wealthy Greenwich, Conn., man, today was arraigned in magistrate's court, charged with stealing the favorite mount of Robert Menzies, wealthy retired business man of the Bronx. She was arrested by a state trooper as she was emerging from the woods at New York, N. J., yesterday and admitted, police said, that she had planned to ride the horse to the Texas border by slow stages. The girl was held in $500 bail for examination.

The Hayes and the Menzies families are close friends and Miss Hayes was teaching Menzies' daughter to ride when she disappeared with Menzies' horse, it was stated. When arrested she was said to have laughingly admitted the theft, declaring she was "in love with the horse" and remarked that "pop will square the bill."

Honeymoon

A friendly breeze crooning in the rigging. Two discreet deck chairs afloat. Benign moonlight smiling benediction. . . . Rose-tipped dawn. . . . Sun sparkling on the blue Pacific. . . . Land. . . . Lotus scented dusk. . . . Dream cities. . . . Romance. . . .

Where?

On the Canadian Pacific Orient. Cross the Canadian Pacific Rockies. Then Vancouver. A luxurious Empress ship is waiting there for You and Your Husband to travel to Japan, China, India. Forty-six days in kaleidoscopic paradise. Days filled with fascinating and exotic sights, land and shore. Yet the cost is surprisingly moderate. Further information from local travel agents or E. C. Tamm, Manager, Atg. Pass. Dept., Canadian Pacific Railway, 49 N. Forsyth St., Atlanta, Ga. Telephone, W-Want 2217.

Canadian Pacific
IT SPANS THE WORLD

HUBIG'S FAMOUS HONEY-FRUIT PIES
THE MORE YOU EAT THE MORE YOU WANT
10¢ 20¢ 30¢ AT YOUR GROCERS

Fresh Fish

BARFIELD'S

Unloading another car of fresh-caught FISH, including fresh Codfish, Haddock, Flounder, Sole, Cusk and Spots.

This car went on sale Thursday morning and continues until gone at the attractive price of

15¢ Lb.

Fish Steak 25c Lb.

They Are Strictly Fresh and Fine Flavor
DON'T MISS IT!
Begin Eating Them Today

BARFIELD'S
Farmers' Market

17 East Ala.

Adair's New Encyclopedia for THE ATLANTA CONSTITUTION

How to Get It 3 Coupons and $2.98

For the mere nominal cost of manufacture and distribution, paid for $3.25 net.

Presented at The Constitution office, or sent by mail, postage paid, for $3.25 net.

Present or mail to this paper three Coupons with the small expense mentioned, which pays in full for the set of big volumes. Attractively bound in durable forest green covers, decorated with gold designs. This entirely new encyclopedia covers all departments of human progress and achievement. All works of reference made before the World War are out of date.

Reaves Suit Sent Back for Trial Upon Its Merits

Reversal by the court of appeals of Georgia Thursday of the judgment of Judge C. E. Roop, of Coweta superior court, nonsuiting the case of T. M. Reaves against the Columbus Electric Light and Power Company. $800,000 damages as a result of an accident in which his wife was killed sent the case back for trial on its merits.

Marian Reaves, a 9-month-old daughter of the victim, sued for $100,000 damages by the father, as next friend, for the same death, in a separate action which has not been tried.

The suit filed by the infant has the record in Georgia for the youngest plaintiff.

Reaves, his wife and child, with L. S. Garnett and W. G. Wren, all residents of Alabama, were riding in an automobile on the McCallum road, near Newnan, on October 28, 1922, when their car collided with a trailer attached to a wagon driven by a negro alleged to have been in the employ of the electric company. The electric company owned the trailer, which was being used in repairing wiring, and the negro's services from a farmer, it was alleged. When the case came up for a hearing, Attorney Hewlett Hall, of Newnan, moved the court to nonsuit the plaintiff, on the ground that the negro was acting against an employer's property in that the negro was not the servant of the electric company, but of the farmer. Judge Roop sustained the motion and threw the case out.

Judge J. Render Terrell, of Greenville, and Attorney Lawton Nalley, of Atlanta, appealed. Judge Roop's decision was upheld by the court of appeals, which reversed the court below.

Reaves, his wife and child, with L. S. Garnett and W. G. Wren, all residents of Alabama, were riding in an automobile on the McCallum road, near Newnan, on October 28, 1922, when their car collided with a trailer attached to a wagon driven by a negro alleged to have been in the employ of the electric company. The electric company owned the trailer, which was being used in repairing wiring, and the negro's services from a farmer, it was alleged. When the case came up for a hearing, Attorney Hewlett Hall, of Newnan, moved the court to nonsuit the plaintiff, on the ground that the negro was acting against an employer's property in that the negro was not the servant of the electric company, but of the farmer. Judge Roop sustained the motion and threw the case out.

Judge J. Render Terrell, of Greenville, and Attorney Lawton Nalley, of Atlanta, appealed. Judge Roop's decision was upheld by the court of appeals, which reversed the court below.

Reaves, his wife and child, with L. S. Garnett and W. G. Wren, all residents of Alabama, were riding in an automobile on the McCallum road, near Newnan, on October 28, 1922, when their car collided with a trailer attached to a wagon driven by a negro alleged to have been in the employ of the electric company. The electric company owned the trailer, which was being used in repairing wiring, and the negro's services from a farmer, it was alleged. When the case came up for a hearing, Attorney Hewlett Hall, of Newnan, moved the court to nonsuit the plaintiff, on the ground that the negro was acting against an employer's property in that the negro was not the servant of the electric company, but of the farmer. Judge Roop sustained the motion and threw the case out.

Judge J. Render Terrell, of Greenville, and Attorney Lawton Nalley, of Atlanta, appealed. Judge Roop's decision was upheld by the court of appeals, which reversed the court below.

Reaves, his wife and child, with L. S. Garnett and W. G. Wren, all residents of Alabama, were riding in an automobile on the McCallum road, near Newnan, on October 28, 1922, when their car collided with a trailer attached to a wagon driven by a negro alleged to have been in the employ of the electric company. The electric company owned the trailer, which was being used in repairing wiring, and the negro's services from a farmer, it was alleged. When the case came up for a hearing, Attorney Hewlett Hall, of Newnan, moved the court to nonsuit the plaintiff, on the ground that the negro was acting against an employer's property in that the negro was not the servant of the electric company, but of the farmer. Judge Roop sustained the motion and threw the case out.

Judge J. Render Terrell, of Greenville, and Attorney Lawton Nalley, of Atlanta, appealed. Judge Roop's decision was upheld by the court of appeals, which reversed the court below.

Reaves, his wife and child, with L. S. Garnett and W. G. Wren, all residents of Alabama, were riding in an automobile on the McCallum road, near Newnan, on October 28, 1922, when their car collided with a trailer attached to a wagon driven by a negro alleged to have been in the employ of the electric company. The electric company owned the trailer, which was being used in repairing wiring, and the negro's services from a farmer, it was alleged. When the case came up for a hearing, Attorney Hewlett Hall, of Newnan, moved the court to nonsuit the plaintiff, on the ground that the negro was acting against an employer's property in that the negro was not the servant of the electric company, but of the farmer. Judge Roop sustained the motion and threw the case out.

Judge J. Render Terrell, of Greenville, and Attorney Lawton Nalley, of Atlanta, appealed. Judge Roop's decision was upheld by the court of appeals, which reversed the court below.

Reaves, his wife and child, with L. S. Garnett and W. G. Wren, all residents of Alabama, were riding in an automobile on the McCallum road, near Newnan, on October 28, 1922, when their car collided with a trailer attached to a wagon driven by a negro alleged to have been in the employ of the electric company. The electric company owned the trailer, which was being used in repairing wiring, and the negro's services from a farmer, it was alleged. When the case came up for a hearing, Attorney Hewlett Hall, of Newnan, moved the court to nonsuit the plaintiff, on the ground that the negro was acting against an employer's property in that the negro was not the servant of the electric company, but of the farmer. Judge Roop sustained the motion and threw the case out.

Judge J. Render Terrell, of Greenville, and Attorney Lawton Nalley, of Atlanta, appealed. Judge Roop's decision was upheld by the court of appeals, which reversed the court below.

Reaves, his wife and child, with L. S. Garnett and W. G. Wren, all residents of Alabama, were riding in an automobile on the McCallum road, near Newnan, on October 28, 1922, when their car collided with a trailer attached to a wagon driven by a negro alleged to have been in the employ of the electric company. The electric company owned the trailer, which was being used in repairing wiring, and the negro's services from a farmer, it was alleged. When the case came up for a hearing, Attorney Hewlett Hall, of Newnan, moved the court to nonsuit the plaintiff, on the ground that the negro was acting against an employer's property in that the negro was not the servant of the electric company, but of the farmer. Judge Roop sustained the motion and threw the case out.

Judge J. Render Terrell, of Greenville, and Attorney Lawton Nalley, of Atlanta, appealed. Judge Roop's decision was upheld by the court of appeals, which reversed the court below.

Reaves, his wife and child, with L. S. Garnett and W. G. Wren, all residents of Alabama, were riding in an automobile on the McCallum road, near Newnan, on October 28, 1922, when their car collided with a trailer attached to a wagon driven by a negro alleged to have been in the employ of the electric company. The electric company owned the trailer, which was being used in repairing wiring, and the negro's services from a farmer, it was alleged. When the case came up for a hearing, Attorney Hewlett Hall, of Newnan, moved the court to nonsuit the plaintiff, on the ground that the negro was acting against an employer's property in that the negro was not the servant of the electric company, but of the farmer. Judge Roop sustained the motion and threw the case out.

Judge J. Render Terrell, of Greenville, and Attorney Lawton Nalley, of Atlanta, appealed. Judge Roop's decision was upheld by the court of appeals, which reversed the court below.

Reaves, his wife and child, with L. S. Garnett and W. G. Wren, all residents of Alabama, were riding in an automobile on the McCallum road, near Newnan, on October 28, 1922, when their car collided with a trailer attached to a wagon driven by a negro alleged to have been in the employ of the electric company. The electric company owned the trailer, which was being used in repairing wiring, and the negro's services from a farmer, it was alleged. When the case came up for a hearing, Attorney Hewlett Hall, of Newnan, moved the court to nonsuit the plaintiff, on the ground that the negro was acting against an employer's property in that the negro was not the servant of the electric company, but of the farmer. Judge Roop sustained the motion and threw the case out.

Judge J. Render Terrell, of Greenville, and Attorney Lawton Nalley, of Atlanta, appealed. Judge Roop's decision was upheld by the court of appeals, which reversed the court below.

Reaves, his wife and child, with L. S. Garnett and W. G. Wren, all residents of Alabama, were riding in an automobile on the McCallum road, near Newnan, on October 28, 1922, when their car collided with a trailer attached to a wagon driven by a negro alleged to have been in the employ of the electric company. The electric company owned the trailer, which was being used in repairing wiring, and the negro's services from a farmer, it was alleged. When the case came up for a hearing, Attorney Hewlett Hall, of Newnan, moved the court to nonsuit the plaintiff, on the ground that the negro was acting against an employer's property in that the negro was not the servant of the electric company, but of the farmer. Judge Roop sustained the motion and threw the case out.

Judge J. Render Terrell, of Greenville, and Attorney Lawton Nalley, of Atlanta, appealed. Judge Roop's decision was upheld by the court of appeals, which reversed the court below.

Reaves, his wife and child, with L. S. Garnett and W. G. Wren, all residents of Alabama, were riding in an automobile on the McCallum road, near Newnan, on October 28, 1922, when their car collided with a trailer attached to a wagon driven by a negro alleged to have been in the employ of the electric company. The electric company owned the trailer, which was being used in repairing wiring, and the negro's services from a farmer, it was alleged. When the case came up for a hearing, Attorney Hewlett Hall, of Newnan, moved the court to nonsuit the plaintiff, on the ground that the negro was acting against an employer's property in that the negro was not the servant of the electric company, but of the farmer. Judge Roop sustained the motion and threw the case out.

Judge J. Render Terrell, of Greenville, and Attorney Lawton Nalley, of Atlanta, appealed. Judge Roop's decision was upheld by the court of appeals, which reversed the court below.

Reaves, his wife and child, with L. S. Garnett and W. G. Wren, all residents of Alabama, were riding in an automobile on the McCallum road, near Newnan, on October 28, 1922, when their car collided with a trailer attached to a wagon driven by a negro alleged to have been in the employ of the electric company. The electric company owned the trailer, which was being used in repairing wiring, and the negro's services from a farmer, it was alleged. When the case came up for a hearing, Attorney Hewlett Hall, of Newnan, moved the court to nonsuit the plaintiff, on the ground that the negro was acting against an employer's property in that the negro was not the servant of the electric company, but of the farmer. Judge Roop sustained the motion and threw the case out.

Judge J. Render Terrell, of Greenville, and Attorney Lawton Nalley, of Atlanta, appealed. Judge Roop's decision was upheld by the court of appeals, which reversed the court below.

Reaves, his wife and child, with L. S. Garnett and W. G. Wren, all residents of Alabama, were riding in an automobile on the McCallum road, near Newnan, on October 28, 1922, when their car collided with a trailer attached to a wagon driven by a negro alleged to have been in the employ of the electric company. The electric company owned the trailer, which was being used in repairing wiring, and the negro's services from a farmer, it was alleged. When the case came up for a hearing, Attorney Hewlett Hall, of Newnan, moved the court to nonsuit the plaintiff, on the ground that the negro was acting against an employer's property in that the negro was not the servant of the electric company, but of the farmer. Judge Roop sustained the motion and threw the case out.

Judge J. Render Terrell, of Greenville, and Attorney Lawton Nalley, of Atlanta, appealed. Judge Roop's decision was upheld by the court of appeals, which reversed the court below.

Reaves, his wife and child, with L. S. Garnett and W. G. Wren, all residents of Alabama, were riding in an automobile on the McCallum road, near Newnan, on October 28, 1922, when their car collided with a trailer attached to a wagon driven by a negro alleged to have been in the employ of the electric company. The electric company owned the trailer, which was being used in repairing wiring, and the negro's services from a farmer, it was alleged. When the case came up for a hearing, Attorney Hewlett Hall, of Newnan, moved the court to nonsuit the plaintiff, on the ground that the negro was acting against an employer's property in that the negro was not the servant of the electric company, but of the farmer. Judge Roop sustained the motion and threw the case out.

Judge J. Render Terrell, of Greenville, and Attorney Lawton Nalley, of Atlanta, appealed. Judge Roop's decision was upheld by the court of appeals, which reversed the court below.

Reaves, his wife and child, with L. S. Garnett and W. G. Wren, all residents of Alabama, were riding in an automobile on the McCallum road, near Newnan, on October 28, 1922, when their car collided with a trailer attached to a wagon driven by a negro alleged to have been in the employ of the electric company. The electric company owned the trailer, which was being used in repairing wiring, and the negro's services from a farmer, it was alleged. When the case came up for a hearing, Attorney Hewlett Hall, of Newnan, moved the court to nonsuit the plaintiff, on the ground that the negro was acting against an employer's property in that the negro was not the servant of the electric company, but of the farmer. Judge Roop sustained the motion and threw the case out.

Judge J. Render Terrell, of Greenville, and Attorney Lawton Nalley, of Atlanta, appealed. Judge Roop's decision was upheld by the court of appeals, which reversed the court below.

Reaves, his wife and child, with L. S. Garnett and W. G. Wren, all residents of Alabama, were riding in an automobile on the McCallum road, near Newnan, on October 28, 1922, when their car collided with a trailer attached to a wagon driven by a negro alleged to have been in the employ of the electric company. The electric company owned the trailer, which was being used in repairing wiring, and the negro's services from a farmer, it was alleged. When the case came up for a hearing, Attorney Hewlett Hall, of Newnan, moved the court to nonsuit the plaintiff, on the ground that the negro was acting against an employer's property in that the negro was not the servant of the electric company, but of the farmer. Judge Roop sustained the motion and threw the case out.

Judge J. Render Terrell, of Greenville, and Attorney Lawton Nalley, of Atlanta, appealed. Judge Roop's decision was upheld by the court of appeals, which reversed the court below.

Reaves, his wife and child, with L. S. Garnett and W. G. Wren, all residents of Alabama, were riding in an automobile on the McCallum road, near Newnan, on October 28, 1922, when their car collided with a trailer attached to a wagon driven by a negro alleged to have been in the employ of the electric company. The electric company owned the trailer, which was being used in repairing wiring, and the negro's services from a farmer, it was alleged. When the case came up for a hearing, Attorney Hewlett Hall, of Newnan, moved the court to nonsuit the plaintiff, on the ground that the negro was acting against an employer's property in that the negro was not the servant of the electric company, but of the farmer. Judge Roop sustained the motion and threw the case out.

Judge J. Render Terrell, of Greenville, and Attorney Lawton Nalley, of Atlanta, appealed. Judge Roop's decision was upheld by the court of appeals, which reversed the court below.

Reaves, his wife and child, with L. S. Garnett and W. G. Wren, all residents of Alabama, were riding in an automobile on the McCallum road, near Newnan, on October 28, 1922, when their car collided with a trailer attached to a wagon driven by a negro alleged to have been in the employ of the electric company. The electric company owned the trailer, which was being used in repairing wiring, and the negro's services from a farmer, it was alleged. When the case came up for a hearing, Attorney Hewlett Hall, of Newnan, moved the court to nonsuit the plaintiff, on the ground that the negro was acting against an employer's property in that the negro was not the servant of the electric company, but of the farmer. Judge Roop sustained the motion and threw the case out.

Judge J. Render Terrell, of Greenville, and Attorney Lawton Nalley, of Atlanta, appealed. Judge Roop's decision was upheld by the court of appeals, which reversed the court below.

Reaves, his wife and child, with L. S. Garnett and W. G. Wren, all residents of Alabama, were riding in an automobile on the McCallum road, near Newnan, on October 28, 1922, when their car collided with a trailer attached to a wagon driven by a negro alleged to have been in the employ of the electric company. The electric company owned the trailer, which was being used in repairing wiring, and the negro's services from a farmer, it was alleged. When the case came up for a hearing, Attorney Hewlett Hall, of Newnan, moved the court to nonsuit the plaintiff, on the ground that the negro was acting against an employer's property in that the negro was not the servant of the electric company, but of the farmer. Judge Roop sustained the motion and threw the case out.

Judge J. Render Terrell, of Greenville, and Attorney Lawton Nalley, of Atlanta, appealed. Judge Roop's decision was upheld by the court of appeals, which reversed the court below.

Reaves, his wife and child, with L. S. Garnett and W. G. Wren, all residents of Alabama, were riding in an automobile on the McCallum road, near Newnan, on October 28, 1922, when their car collided with a trailer attached to a wagon driven by

One Opera Libretto Will Last This Fan for Two Performances

BY PAUL WARWICK.

As is the case with women, so it is with men—you can love them without understanding them.

Most notable proof of which came under this reporter's observation Thursday afternoon.

A gentleman sat next him at the performance of "Rigoletto." He followed the opera page after page with a libretto he held in his hand. Line for line, and eye for an eye and a tooth for a tooth—this man was referring to the translations in the book the boy had sold him outside for a quarter.

He didn't miss a trick. He turned page after page; between the acts he was most voluble, in an indefinite sort of way about how wonderful it all was. He could understand it, he said, with the libretto.

Just before the third act began, this same reporter glanced at the pamphlet the gentleman was following with such gusto.

It was the libretto of "Faust."

With the assistance of the fine Italian hand of one Giuseppe Verdi, who could do more things with a bucket of cadenzas and a handful of apeggi than a monkey can on a greasy pole, grand opera is "over the hump"—as they say in crap games.

Or in golfing lingo, Atlanta is four up and four to go. Dormie four with only "Fedora," "Faust," "Cavalleria Rusticana" and "I Pagliacci" yet to be played.

Story of The Opera

FRIDAY NIGHT: "FEDORA"

Opera by Giordano.

(Sung in Italian)

The Cast.

Princess Fedora.....Florence Easton
Countess Lothario.....Queenie Leon
Count Olaf.....Giovanni Martinelli
Giovanni.....Giovanni Martinelli
De Sirex.....Antonio Scotti
Dimitri.....Ellen Dalossey
A Little Savoyard.....Henrietta Wakefield
Baron Rouval-Desire.....Angelo Ballo
Cirillo.....Enrico Caruso
Iata Pichi
Boroff.....Millo Puccio
Grech.....Louis D'Angelico
Dr. Loreck.....Polo Ananian
Conductor, Gennaro Papi.

Princess Fedora Rumanoff is much attached to Count Vladimir Andreyevich, a handsome man, but whose absolute character is known only to a group of close companions. These, in the first act of the opera, make merry over his approaching marriage to the princess. While visiting the counts house Fedora sees Vladimir brought in mortally wounded—and on his death Fedora swears to avenge the murder of her lover. Suspicion is she had sent to the Russian authorities had caused the execution of Loris' brother, the tragedy causing the death of his mother. When Loris returns and opens letters from St. Petersburg he learns the whole truth. He begs Fedora to aid him in bringing to justice the woman who has been his mother.

In remorse Fedora begs him to remember that the lover of Vladimir, too, must have suffered. Confused, Loris repeats his resolve to avenge himself on the one who has despoiled his family. Being fearless that the court himself would reward her, Fedora drinks a cup of poison and, dying, receives the pardon of Loris.

As is habitual when one of these Verdi offerings comes up for her attention, Atlanta fairly ate up "Rigoletto" Thursday afternoon, just as she had devoured "Trovatore" two afternoons previous. It's a great relief to prop your knee against the seat in the dark, you just can't help it. I cry out, "Go to it, you people; here's an opera where a tune is not a crime!" And though this be no reflection on their culture—that's what Atlanta, and any old body else, de-sires.

Atlanta operates on the theory that it's all right to kill a lot of people because they're the scum of the earth before they are knocked into oblivion. The most sanguine English squire, the most metallic businessman feels his blood stirring with increasing vigor, his heart and pulses beating with quicker throbs when he sees the betrayal of trust and confounding love.

Rigoletto is the type of opera which brings from the generally un-disturbed subterranean and subconscious Anglo-Saxon mood a new emotion, and the new bubble bubbles over in enthusiasm and hearty approval.

Not Difficult to Rouse.

Yet Atlanta audiences are not as difficult to rouse as the people of the north. Perhaps the reason is an more so-called. Noddy as the imagination imagined. And, glancing backward over the history of the south we find such names as Ponce de Leon and the names of chevaliers of France and wealthy Huguenot bourgeois families linked with the days of its exploration and early settlement.

And, though by no means picture presentations of southern scenes, there is as much passionate love apear in Dixie as there is in Tuscany or Cas-tilia.

The quick draw seemed to have been as great in vogue among the old aristocratic families as the studio of the Sicilian mountain passes, if we are to judge by the opinion of the directors of the Great Contrast.

When Fedor Chaliapin staged his overwhelming, Olympian interpretation of sin and punishment, the audience sat aghast, and the critics, the dissident ones, were evoked by Patti's strong baton struck against all previously conceived feelings in regard to music. The listeners felt they were in the presence of genius in the zenith of glory, the mass struggled, psychologically speaking, to understand this weird fantasm, this swaying and shuddering of a world gone mad.

But in Rigoletto's effort was needed to rouse one's enthusiasm. It came rippling and rolling on the silver endences and golden waves of melody, in the choral ensembles, in the irresistible songs of love, in the romance of the moment. It swelled with increasing tempo. It transmuted itself with the contagion of the immortal art that was popular even a long ago and that till the favors of opera goes the world over.

Brickmaking was one of man's earliest pursuits.

Copyright 1924 Hart Schaffner & Marx

Hart Schaffner & Marx make successful clothes, we sell them

YOU'LL wonder how we can sell them so cheap. It's no secret. Our great volume and small profit. New spring Hart Schaffner & Marx suits at and $35, $40, $50, $60 to $77

$45

SATISFACTION GUARANTEED

Daniel Bros. Company

Home of Hart Schaffner & Marx clothes

45-49 Peachtree

De Luca, Gigli, Bori, Didur Are Praised in "Rigoletto"

"RIGOLETTO"

By Verdi.

CHARACTERS

Duke of Mantua.....Beniamino Gigli
Rigoletto.....Giuseppe De Luca
Count Ceprano.....Vincenzo Reschigiani
Count Montrone.....Paolo Ananian
Spavafuile.....Adamo Didur
Borsa.....Giandomenico Paliotto
Marullo.....Millo Perini
Countess Ceprano.....Nanette Guilford
Gilda.....Nanette Guilford
Giovanna.....Henriette Wildfield
Maddalena.....Flora Perini
Incidental dances of the Corps de Ballet.....Conductor, Roberto Moranzone.

BY ENRICO LEIDE,
Director of Presentation, Metropolitan Theater, Atlanta, and Conductor Atlanta Symphony Orchestra.

Despite the horrible and improbable plot and its array of despicable characters, "Rigoletto" is one of the finest of Verdi's operas.

"Rigoletto," to meet the approval of the seen eyes of the police in their office of political protection, is forced to undergo many changes in the libretto. Verdi, being saturated with the plot, accepted the alterations so rapidly to his inspiration that in forty days the opera was completed.

Mr. Moranzone was masterful responsible for the success of that finale, as well as for that of the quartet, and Adamo Didur, in the role of Spavafuile, created out of an ungrateful

Duet Is Climax.

This duet, when acted in the manner in which Miss Bori and Mr. De Luca did, is a veritable climax. It is the turning point in the plot; it is the oath of vengeance of a father to vindicate his betrayed daughter.

Mr. Moranzone was masterful responsible for the success of that finale, as well as for that of the quartet, and Adamo Didur, in the role of Spavafuile, created out of an ungrateful part a befitting impersonation. His make-up was a work of art and his entrance was very impressive.

Three high lights in Rigoletto make the opera a great success.

Three high lights in Rigoletto make the opera a great success.

Three high lights in Rigoletto make the opera a great success.

Three high lights in Rigoletto make the opera a great success.

Three high lights in Rigoletto make the opera a great success.

Three high lights in Rigoletto make the opera a great success.

Three high lights in Rigoletto make the opera a great success.

Three high lights in Rigoletto make the opera a great success.

Three high lights in Rigoletto make the opera a great success.

Three high lights in Rigoletto make the opera a great success.

Three high lights in Rigoletto make the opera a great success.

Three high lights in Rigoletto make the opera a great success.

Three high lights in Rigoletto make the opera a great success.

Three high lights in Rigoletto make the opera a great success.

Three high lights in Rigoletto make the opera a great success.

Three high lights in Rigoletto make the opera a great success.

Three high lights in Rigoletto make the opera a great success.

Three high lights in Rigoletto make the opera a great success.

Three high lights in Rigoletto make the opera a great success.

Three high lights in Rigoletto make the opera a great success.

Three high lights in Rigoletto make the opera a great success.

Three high lights in Rigoletto make the opera a great success.

Three high lights in Rigoletto make the opera a great success.

Three high lights in Rigoletto make the opera a great success.

Three high lights in Rigoletto make the opera a great success.

Three high lights in Rigoletto make the opera a great success.

Three high lights in Rigoletto make the opera a great success.

Three high lights in Rigoletto make the opera a great success.

Three high lights in Rigoletto make the opera a great success.

Three high lights in Rigoletto make the opera a great success.

Three high lights in Rigoletto make the opera a great success.

Three high lights in Rigoletto make the opera a great success.

Three high lights in Rigoletto make the opera a great success.

Three high lights in Rigoletto make the opera a great success.

Three high lights in Rigoletto make the opera a great success.

Three high lights in Rigoletto make the opera a great success.

Three high lights in Rigoletto make the opera a great success.

Three high lights in Rigoletto make the opera a great success.

Three high lights in Rigoletto make the opera a great success.

Three high lights in Rigoletto make the opera a great success.

Three high lights in Rigoletto make the opera a great success.

Three high lights in Rigoletto make the opera a great success.

Three high lights in Rigoletto make the opera a great success.

Three high lights in Rigoletto make the opera a great success.

Three high lights in Rigoletto make the opera a great success.

Three high lights in Rigoletto make the opera a great success.

Three high lights in Rigoletto make the opera a great success.

Three high lights in Rigoletto make the opera a great success.

Three high lights in Rigoletto make the opera a great success.

Three high lights in Rigoletto make the opera a great success.

Three high lights in Rigoletto make the opera a great success.

Three high lights in Rigoletto make the opera a great success.

Three high lights in Rigoletto make the opera a great success.

Three high lights in Rigoletto make the opera a great success.

Three high lights in Rigoletto make the opera a great success.

Three high lights in Rigoletto make the opera a great success.

Three high lights in Rigoletto make the opera a great success.

Three high lights in Rigoletto make the opera a great success.

Three high lights in Rigoletto make the opera a great success.

Three high lights in Rigoletto make the opera a great success.

Three high lights in Rigoletto make the opera a great success.

Three high lights in Rigoletto make the opera a great success.

Three high lights in Rigoletto make the opera a great success.

Three high lights in Rigoletto make the opera a great success.

Three high lights in Rigoletto make the opera a great success.

Three high lights in Rigoletto make the opera a great success.

Three high lights in Rigoletto make the opera a great success.

Three high lights in Rigoletto make the opera a great success.

Three high lights in Rigoletto make the opera a great success.

Three high lights in Rigoletto make the opera a great success.

Three high lights in Rigoletto make the opera a great success.

Three high lights in Rigoletto make the opera a great success.

Three high lights in Rigoletto make the opera a great success.

Three high lights in Rigoletto make the opera a great success.

Three high lights in Rigoletto make the opera a great success.

Three high lights in Rigoletto make the opera a great success.

Three high lights in Rigoletto make the opera a great success.

Three high lights in Rigoletto make the opera a great success.

Three high lights in Rigoletto make the opera a great success.

Three high lights in Rigoletto make the opera a great success.

Three high lights in Rigoletto make the opera a great success.

Three high lights in Rigoletto make the opera a great success.

Three high lights in Rigoletto make the opera a great success.

Three high lights in Rigoletto make the opera a great success.

Three high lights in Rigoletto make the opera a great success.</p

GEORGIA STUDENTS OPEN WAR ON RUM

Athens, Ga., April 24.—(Special) University of Georgia students today by a vote of 472 to 19 pledged support to the chancellor, David C. Barrow, and faculty in expulsion of any student found drunk or acting disorderly in the future. The resolution was taken by adoption of resolutions presented by members of the Sphinx honorary club. It was pointed out that conditions regarding whisky drinking are no worse at the university than at other schools in the state. At the same time, speakers declared, "that does not clear us of responsibility for what has been going on here, and we should put a stop to it."

The meeting, called by the Sphinx club by permission of the faculty, was a culmination of a growing sentiment in the university against drunkenness and was taken for the purpose of getting an expression from the student body on that subject. It was said:

Speakers included: Freeman C. McClure, representative from Lafayette county in the state legislature; Joe Bennett, ex-captain of the football team and president of the student council; Alton Hesch, Gainesville, president of student council; Charles H. Anderson, Macon; Harvey

ART GALLERY IS SEEN AS RESULT OF EXHIBIT

Paul H. Norcross, president of the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce, believes that as a result of the great art exhibition which is to be held in this city for two weeks, May 17 to 31, a great permanent art gallery will eventually be built in Atlanta, and that the capital of Georgia will become the artistic capital of the entire south, as well as the musical center of the United States.

Mr. Norcross, who is in New York, has visited there at the Grand Central Art Galleries the collection of paintings and sculptures of the greatest modern American artists which is to be brought to Atlanta.

He is enthusiastic about the showing and expressed his enthusiasm in a telegram to J. J. Haverty, chairman of the art committee of the chamber of commerce, under whose auspices the May exhibition will be given at the Biltmore.

Mr. Norcross' telegram to Mr. Haverty reads as follows:

"Visited Grand Central Art Gallery Wednesday. Congratulations to you and the other public-spirited citizens who, through unselfish devotion to the educational and civic welfare of our city, have initiated the movement of bringing this exhibit to Atlanta.

"I predict that this event will stimulate the fruition of plans to construct a permanent art gallery in Atlanta, and that our city will become the art center of the south."

With Interest Arised

Great interest in the coming exhibition has already been aroused among art lovers of Atlanta and the south, and it is believed there will be many hundred visitors who will come to Atlanta in order to view the galleries at the Biltmore during the two weeks of the exhibition.

A number of the artists whose work is to be displayed will visit Atlanta during the showing and give lectures on the examples of modern art displayed. There will also be a large number of social affairs arranged, at which the visiting artists and executives of the Grand Central Galleries will be the chief guests.

Every civic organization in Atlanta is cooperating to the fullest possible extent on the plans for the exhibition, and it is stated that it will be, next to grand opera, the most important cultural event in the history of Atlanta.

FRED M. BALDWIN
DIES SUDDENLY
WHILE AT WORK

Fred M. Baldwin, 53, of Center Hill, died suddenly Thursday morning while at work at the Trinity Quartz shop, 107 1/2 South Forsyth street. Mr. Baldwin apparently was in excellent health and spirits when he arrived at work Thursday morning, but at about 10 o'clock complained of illness, and died an hour later.

He had been an Atlanta resident for 25 years, and was employed at the Trinity shop for the past 10 years.

He is survived by a son-in-law, F. J. Howar, of Erie, Pa.; three grandsons, Theodore, Ernest and M. B. Howar, all of Erie, and a grandaughter, Mrs. W. A. Patterson, of Mattoon, Ill.

Funeral arrangements will be announced later by H. M. Patterson & Son.

SILENCE TO VEIL
TROLLEY SURVEY
UNTIL COMPLETED

No recommendations in the John H. Boller traffic survey will be made public until the work is completed, it was announced Thursday by Alderman J. R. Bachman, chairman of the special council committee on the street car company's petition.

The committee will receive a tentative report on the progress of the survey up to the present time. The committee is to meet again next week to decide whether to hold further public hearings after the survey and the audit of the trolley company's books is completed.

The audit and the survey are being made at the expense of the Georgia Railway and Power company, although the auditors and engineers are working directly under the committee's instructions.

ROBERT C. CLARKE,
FORMER ATLANTAN,
DIES AT PASADENA

Robert Campbell Clarke, former Atlantan and brother of Mrs. John S. Cohen, wife of the editor of The Atlanta Journal, died Wednesday at Pasadena, Cal., according to word received here. Funeral arrangements had not been made Thursday pending word from the widow, but it is expected that the body will be brought to Atlanta.

Mr. Clarke, who was a native Atlantan, left this city 20 years ago to enter business in New York city. His failing health caused him to move to California, and he had resided in Pasadena for the past 12 years.

He was a son of the late Robert C. Clarke and Mrs. Mary C. Clarke, who will live with her daughter at 777 Peachtree street. Before her marriage the widow was Miss Laura Saunders, member of a well known Kentucky family.

TWO BANK BOOKS
AND $700 CASH,
BURGLARS' LOOT

The loss of $700 in cash and two bank books was reported to detectives Thursday morning by Mrs. Emma Griffin, of 174 Cleburne avenue, whose home was entered early Thursday morning.

In addition, several articles of jewelry and clothing were taken. The place was ransacked, dresser drawers being pulled out and upset.

So quietly did the robbers work that their presence was not detected. Entrance was gained through a rear window.

PIONEER GEORGIAN
DIES AT KENNESAW

Funeral services for W. R. Dobbs, 69, of Kennesaw, Ga., who died Monday at the residence after a long illness, was held in Kennesaw, Tuesday morning, by Rev. Holland of the First Methodist church, of Acworth, Ga., officiated.

Mr. Dobbs had been a member of the Methodist church for 42 years, and was a member of itswidened. He is survived by a son, W. L. Dobbs, of Atlanta, who has been connected with the N. C. & St. In railroad in Atlanta for more than 25 years; three brothers, L. N., John and Mann Dobbs, and three sisters, Mrs. Linda Satterfield, Mrs. Mamie Willoughby and Mrs. Emma Cassard.

GEORGIA SERVICE BOARD IN FAVOR OF JUNKING ROAD

The Georgia public service commission Thursday recommended to the interstate commerce commission that permission be granted the Pelham and Havana railroad to junk its property as requested.

This road, which is 25.30 miles in length, runs from Cairo, Ga., to Havana, Fla. On request of the interstate commerce commission, the Georgia commission held a hearing on the junking proposal at Thomasville on April 15. It was shown that the cost of the right-of-way and replacing stock of the road are prohibitive and that it would cost a large sum to restore the right-of-way to make it safe for traffic, in addition to the necessity of purchasing new rolling stock.

The greater part of the line already has been abandoned for traffic purposes. One large trestle has collapsed and others are in unsafe condition.

In making its recommendation, the Georgia commission points out that there developed no opposition to the proposal at the Thomasville hearing. It suggests, however, that the interstate commerce commission grants the request that the property be sold as junk or as a going concern, in order that citizens of the territory served may preserve the right-of-way for possible future restoration and use.

NEW EAST POINT SCHOOL WILL BE DEDICATED TODAY

William A. Russell High school in East Point will be formally dedicated at 2:30 o'clock today with a Masonic cornerstone laying and Junior Order flag raising. J. D. Hambrick, grand master of Georgia Masons, will preside.

Ceremonies just preceding laying of the cornerstone will be conducted by members of the grand lodge of Georgia, F. and A. M., with address by Rev. M. L. Braxton, president of Georgia Tech; Superintendent of Georgia Schools N. H. Ballard; Mayor Walter Sims, and other high officials of the grand lodge and prominent citizens.

Following laying of the cornerstone the Junior Order of United American Mechanics will have charge of flag-raising services.

Masons who attend the ceremonies will meet at the Masonic Temple at 1 o'clock. The Georgia Military Academy band will arrive at the Temple at 1:30 and escort Masons to the schoolhouse.

Atlanta Delegates
To Attend Meeting
In Cleveland, Ohio

Atlanta's delegates to the twelfth annual meeting of the chamber of commerce of the United States will leave for Cleveland May 6, 7 and 8.

Alfred C. Newell, managing editor, Mayor Walter A. Sims, B. L. Bugg, William Dunlop, Robert W. Woodruff, Armand May, F. A. Wilson-Lawrenson, Paul H. Norcross and B. S. Barker will comprise the local delegation. Mrs. Newell will accompany the party, via the Louisville & Nashville railroad.

Picture Frames
To Order
Good Work—Prompt Delivery
SOU. BOOK CONCERN
71 WHITEHALL ST.

CHURCHMEN STUDY INTER-RACIAL WORK

A group of northern Congregational churchmen arrived in Atlanta Wednesday night to study the work of the local commission on inter-racial cooperation. Only a few hours were spent here.

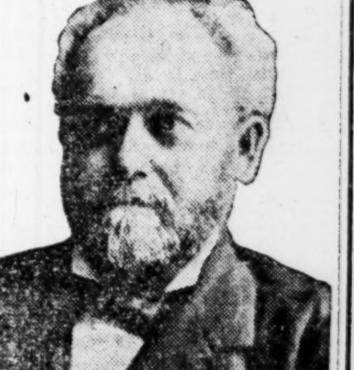

In the party were Dr. Rockwell H. Potter, of the Congregational National Union; Dr. William H. Hersey, of Bridgeport, Conn., president of the American Missionary Association; Dr. George L. Cady, of Boston, secretary of the association; Rev. H. S. Leiper, of New York, associate secretary of the foreign missions committee; Rev. Quincy E. Kelly, of Farmington, Conn., and Rev. James F. Halliday, of Binghamton, N. Y.

Members of the Atlanta commission received the party in the offices of the commission, and general discussion of problems and plans of the work followed. The party left Thursday morning for other points in the south.

SCHOOL CONCERT WILL BE STAGED
BY CONN OFFICIAL

A preparatory school concert, as one of the features of national music week, will be presented on the afternoon of May 9, by C. I. Clark, manager of the Conn company, corner of Auburn avenue and Houston street, according to announcement Thursday. Miss Helen Knapp Spain is chairman of the committee, and arrangements will direct the concert, which will be presented under the local direction of the woman's division of the chamber of commerce.

Dr. Sigmund Smith, widely known musical critic, will arrive in Atlanta Sunday, May 4, to take part in general activities during the week.

A MAN OF INTEGRITY

A physician who reaches out to benefit humanity leaves a record behind him that is without parallel. Such a man was Dr. W. V. Pierce, founder of the Invalids Hotel in Buffalo, N. Y. He was an eminent physician, a leading and honored citizen, known for his honesty and executive ability. His study along medical lines, and his knowledge of the remedial qualities of herbs and plants led to the discovery of his famous "Favortite Prescription," the woman's tonic which has had the greatest number of supporters for the past fifty years. It is just the herbal tonic required if a woman is to be free from pain and suffering at regular or irregular intervals, by nervousness or dizzy spells, headache or backache. Favortite Prescription can now be had in tablet form as well as liquid at most drug stores. Send 10c for trial sample to Dr. Pierce's Invalids Hotel in Buffalo, N. Y. (adv.)

COLVIN B. BROWN TO VISIT ATLANTA

Colvin B. Brown, of the organization service bureau of the United States Chamber of Commerce, will address the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce next Wednesday night at 8 o'clock, according to announcement Thursday.

Mr. Brown is well known as a speaker and an authority on general business conditions. He has also had many years as an organizer.

The complete program for the meeting will be announced later, it is stated.

Blackstock-Hale-Morgan Company

2 Peachtree St.
Exclusive Clothiers
39 Marietta St.
Clothing and Furnishings

Dress Up---Feel Good! Invest In a Collegian Suit

Boys, we've got 'em! A big new shipment of the most beautiful Powder Blues and Grays you ever saw. The very latest styles—distinctive fabrics and tailoring that is superb. Come to Collegian headquarters and make your selections.

$30, $35, $40, $45, $50

Blackstock-Hale-Morgan Co.

TWO STORES IN ATLANTA

2 Peachtree St.
Exclusive Clothiers
39 Marietta St.
Clothing and Furnishings

POLARINE OIL

Since the days of the horseless carriage

STANDARD MOTOR PRODUCTS

have been "Always Better"

STANDARD OIL COMPANY
INCORPORATED IN KENTUCKY

Carlton's
Open All Day Saturday
Prep Suits
Pin Stripes $25
2-Pr. Pants ... 25

Designed and hand-tailored by makers of high-grade men's clothing who know that young men have style ideas of their own. All-wool fabrics in blue and brown pin stripes.
Caps in new shapes and colors, $1.25 up.
2-Pants Knicker Suits $12.75
Not only fine in quality and fabric, but smart in style—the kind of suits boys will wear for Sunday-best. Coats are alpaca-lined, trousers are lined throughout and taped. Ages 6 to 18 years.
Wash Suits $2
Refreshingly new in cunning little Oliver Twist and French Middy styles. Sturdy, fast-colored fabrics in many attractive shades—some in combination with white. Ages 2 to 8 years.
Others $2.50 and up.

Carlton's
36 Whitehall

How a friendly Bank became "The Friendly Bank"

Twelve years ago, a group of men created the Fulton National Bank. It was determined at the outset that the cold, insurmountable aloofness that usually permeates institutions of this kind, would be forever barred.

It was, in those days, a distinct innovation. Staid old bankers shook their heads—a bank without coldness, aloofness, an air of superiority and condescension was not to be thought of—why, people wouldn't have confidence in such a bank!

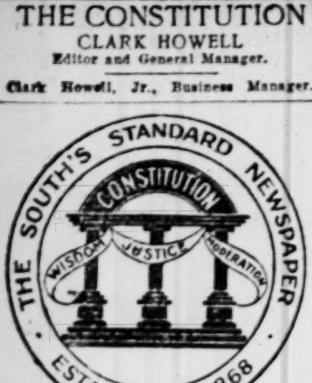

Strange to say, in the twelve years that have passed, people have had confidence in the Fulton. They have found here friendly, cordial service. They have come in contact with executives who discuss business in a frank, man-to-man fashion; they have found that bankers can be just as human as any other business men.

And so, today, the Fulton is known the length and breadth of the Southeast as the "Friendly Bank of Atlanta," made possible by its strict adherence to its pre-determined policy of making every man who enters its portals feel at ease.

It is notable that the same men who created this institution are, today, still directing its progress.

FULTON
NATIONAL BANK

In the Heart of Atlanta's Banking Center

Entered on the Postoffice at Atlanta as second-class mail matter.

Telephone Main 5000

ATLANTA, GA., APRIL 25, 1924.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES.

By Carrier or Mail

Daily and Sat. Morn. & Mon. 50c. 1 Yr.

Sunday 25c. 25c. 50c. 1 Yr.

Daily 10c. 25c. 50c. 1 Yr.

Sunday 10c. 25c. 50c. 1 Yr.

Single Copies Daily, 5c. Sunday, 10c.

Z. H. HOLLOWELL, Constitution Building, solo advertising manager for all territory outside of Atlanta.THE CONSTITUTION is in sale in New York city by 2 p. m. on the day after issue.
It can be had in New York by wire, Brewster and Faris second street (Times building corner), Scholz Agency, at Bryant Park, and Grand Central Depot.The Constitution is not responsible for additional payments to out-of-town local newsmen, and it is not responsible for additional rates not in accordance with published rates are not authorized; also not responsible for additional rates until received at office of publication.

Member of The Associated Press.

The Associated Press is exclusively estimated the use for publication of all news dispatched in the feature field that the A. P. does in the news field. The Constitution is the only member in this section.

UP TO THE SENATE!

Now that the senate has disposed of the bonus bill, and at least brought its investigating hysteria to a more conservative and less spectacular and political log-rolling basis, it is gratifying that the decks are cleared for action on the tax reduction measure.

A news dispatch from Washington carries the following very illuminating information:

The senate cleared the calendar of some minor bills today preparatory to plumping into consideration of the tax reduction measure, the minor item on its legislative program, and the most controversial. The revenue bill was made the unfinished business of the senate yesterday immediately after passage of the bonus bill.

The fact is congress is expected to adjourn for the conventions and subsequent campaigns by June 1, or during the first week in June at the latest, as the republican convention meets in Cleveland on June 10. Therefore there are only five weeks at most to put anything through and the supply bills not yet enacted must be passed, or the government's departments will be financially blocked.

It is incumbent upon the senate, therefore, in view of the fact that the house is already marking time, to push the revenue revision bill to completion as quickly as possible.

The second installment of the 1923 income taxes falls due on June 15th, and if congress is to give the people the benefit of a 25 per cent general reduction on the 1923 levies, as should have been done before March 1, then the upper house will have to speed up, and stop its political maneuvering for something that is constructive, and infinitely more in keeping with public interest and thought.

It is up to the senate now as to whether we shall or shall not have tax reduction. And around the senate's action will revolve much political history later on in the year.

DECORATION DAY.

Saturday, April 26, the men and women—the boys and girls—of the south will pay homage to the rapidly thinning line of confederate soldiers, who bore the brunt of battle, and made the sacrifice of reconstruction hardships, in the early and late 60's.

It is fitting that these tributes should be as liberal and as generous as possible, and that in the ceremonies of the day, as has been the custom for the nearly three-score years that have intervened, that the graves of those who made the supreme sacrifice shall be decorated—an evidence of the love and esteem of the generations that have followed for heroism and unselfish bravery and sacrifice not surpassed by any people in any war in history.

All over Georgia appropriate exercises will be held, addresses will be made, parades will be conducted, and flowers in profusion will fall, along with memory's tears, upon the biers of the patriots of a cause, lost but never to be forgotten.

DEATH OF JUDGE ROSS.

At the democratic state convention in Atlanta Wednesday Judge George F. Ross, of Bibb, was a delegate and was on his feet on several occasions. Today he is dead—the end coming suddenly at his home in Macon Thursday after he had dressed and started to his office.

The death of Judge Ross will carry sorrow to thousands of hearts in the state, for he was widely known and deeply loved and respected.

He had been solicitor general of the Bibb city and superior court, and judge of the city court. He was widely known as a lawyer of great ability—not only as a counselor but as an advocate. He took a deep interest in politics, and in his home city was a constructive force in city and municipal affairs.

DEFEAT OF PINCHOT.

The overwhelming defeat of Governor Pinchot, of Pennsylvania, for delegate-at-large to the national convention, was not unexpected, in view of the terrific fight waged upon him by the "bosses" of the old Quay-Penrose machine, abetted by a strong and forceful wet vote.

While it will not affect the status of President Coolidge in the convention, he already having enough votes pledged or instructed to cross the dead-line, it is very doubtful if defeating Pinchot will serve the republican party well. Indeed it may be construed as a party blunder.

The Springfield Republican sizes it up this way:

"Republicans like Governor Pinchot will be needed in the national convention for purposes other than nominating a ticket. The party will need not only their support, but also their counsel in the shaping of policies and in modifying what might prove to be an inexcusably stupid conservatism in their influence were excluded."

Rep. Williams' Philosophy.

De Lord made de weather an' de man to growl at it.

I likes to see joy, with his banjo, but I don't forget dar's a limit to de dancin'.

I don't want wing-till I got to flyin' into trouble.

The River-Boy.

Stop swingin' on the garden gate,

Gittin' time to dig the bait;

Fish so big the prize they win—

Sometimes pull a fellin' in!

Swingin' on the garden gate,

Jes' like hungry fish could wait!

Appearances.

"They think the book of our newcomer has made a great hit," says the Redhead, "I just know he has had a haircut and his friends have seen him looking in a restaurant window."

The Bird's Song.

No dreams of sad tomorrows

Only the joy today;

You have your little sorrows,

But you sing them all away!

Spring's mighty socialite, with the eyes looking in at the window and seeming to say "good morning!"

Just From Georgia

BY FRANK L. STANTON

Singing Him to Sleep.

(A Georgia Spring Song.)

I don't want to go—

An' I don't want to sleep,

The world that's in the blossoms

Is singing me to sleep.

Singing me to sleep.

By rivers cool and deep,

An' I'm dreamin' of my sweethearts.

Where it's singing me to sleep.

All the little troubles—

They miss me on the way,

In sun and shadow.

I'm waitin' for the May.

Waitin' for the May.

I dream the same—

Doin' all of my sweethearts.

All the happy holiday.

Open Confession.

Says the Mountain Eagle: "The preacher said, on Sunday last,

that he was going to run the devil out of town, but we ain't gone yet."

Go Long!

Go long, Mister Cold Day.

Don't care where you roam,

We want to hear the honey bees

And tell 'em we're home!

There are so many thirsty fisherman that the fisher that has a jug of bait doesn't have it long.

Rep. Williams' Philosophy.

De Lord made de weather an' de man to growl at it.

I likes to see joy, with his banjo,

but I don't forget dar's a limit to de dancin'.

I don't want wing-till I got to flyin' into trouble.

The River-Boy.

Stop swingin' on the garden gate,

Gittin' time to dig the bait;

Fish so big the prize they win—

Sometimes pull a fellin' in!

Swingin' on the garden gate,

Jes' like hungry fish could wait!

Mere

Excess Baggage.

No longer are actresses and other persons allowed to dress up in military uniforms and walk at the head of parades and big social or patriotic events. This is the latest order of the United States war department.

The rank of honorary colonel has been abolished and rightly so. Other countries have eliminated the rank of honorary colonel, following the example of the United States.

The kaiser was honorary colonel of an English regiment and continued to interfere in its administration before the war until the regiment had to be transferred to India.

Our neighbors to the north in Canada have also eliminated the rank of honorary colonel.

Young, Oscar Hammerstein, II.

And there's Lionel Barrymore, the

mad luncheon hour.

You can see wine coolers under tables from the sidewalk.

The smart horse and carriage

avenue fashion players.

Hotel portico flirts with the set grin of vacuity—like a dog scratching a flea.

Young, Oscar Hammerstein, II.

And there's Lionel Barrymore, the

mad luncheon hour.

You can see wine coolers under tables from the sidewalk.

The smart horse and carriage

avenue fashion players.

Hotel portico flirts with the set grin of vacuity—like a dog scratch-

ing a flea.

Young, Oscar Hammerstein, II.

And there's Lionel Barrymore, the

mad luncheon hour.

You can see wine coolers under tables from the sidewalk.

The smart horse and carriage

avenue fashion players.

Hotel portico flirts with the set grin of vacuity—like a dog scratch-

ing a flea.

Young, Oscar Hammerstein, II.

And there's Lionel Barrymore, the

mad luncheon hour.

You can see wine coolers under tables from the sidewalk.

The smart horse and carriage

avenue fashion players.

Hotel portico flirts with the set grin of vacuity—like a dog scratch-

ing a flea.

Young, Oscar Hammerstein, II.

And there's Lionel Barrymore, the

mad luncheon hour.

You can see wine coolers under tables from the sidewalk.

The smart horse and carriage

avenue fashion players.

Hotel portico flirts with the set grin of vacuity—like a dog scratch-

ing a flea.

Young, Oscar Hammerstein, II.

And there's Lionel Barrymore, the

mad luncheon hour.

You can see wine coolers under tables from the sidewalk.

The smart horse and carriage

avenue fashion players.

AMUSEMENTS

Lyric Theater—(Stock) Lyric players in "Irene."

Atlanta Theater—(Stock) Baldwin players in "Nothing But the Truth," featuring John B. Litel.

Loew's Grand—(Loew's vaudeville and feature pictures) See advertisements for program.

Keith's Forsyth—(Keith's vaudeville and feature pictures) See advertisement for program.

Howard Theater—(Feature pictures) Thomas Meighan in "The Confidence-Man." The Warner Seven Aces are featured in "Night." Monday.

Metropolitan Theater—(Feature pictures) Ben Alexander in "Boy of Mine."

Rialto Theater—(Feature pictures) Jess Morrison in "On the Banks of the Wabash."

Alamo Theater—(Pictures) Fred Thompson in "Galloping Gallagher."

Tabor Theater—(Pictures) Viola Dana in "Her Fatal Millions."

Alpha Theater—(Pictures and serials) "The Switching Hour" with George O'Hara.

The Baldwin Players.

(At the Atlanta)

The constant demand for tickets by admirers of John B. Litel, to see him in his first role since his return to Atlanta as leading man of the Baldwin Stock Players, has failed to exhaust the entire number of excellent seats in the Atlanta theater, and many other good seats to the remaining performances this week are available.

This was made known by Walter S. Baldwin, managing director of the organization.

"Irene."

(At the Lyric) "Irene" will be presented tonight, Saturday afternoon and night at the Lyric theater. A portion of the Atlanta girls and boys trained by Keith's Forsyth.

This popular couple are black-faced comedians who have a rollicking line of humor and they spread it in a most entertaining way. They have been seen here a good many times before, and they have become quite popular among theatergoers.

The program also includes a splendid song and dance revue in the act of Helen Higgins and Edith Blossom, two charming girls with lots of personality.

Nevins and Gordon have a nonsensical comedy entitled "Horse Sense," filled with laughs. Jeanette Chidley, who calls herself "The Joy Girl," is a singer with a decided sense of humor.

Jean and Val Jean present a series of difficult ring feats interspersed with lots of comedy.

HOASC HONOR CLUB NAMES 7 STUDENTS AT AGNES SCOTT

Decatur, Ga., April 24.—(Special to the Atlanta Journal) Agnes Scott college have been elected to the senior honor society and will be inducted into the club at an early date, it was announced here today.

Elect to the society is said to be an honor much sought by students at the college, as it is a stamp of approval or recognition rendered to the students. House committee of 15 members of each graduating class and other seniors will be tendered an invitation to affiliate, members stated.

Those honored are: Misses Dorothy Smith of Greenville, S. C.; Anna Spivey, Eatonton; Louise Kryman Buchanan, Nashville, Tenn.; Mary Ann McKinney, Nacogdoches, Texas; Frances Bitzer, Leeland, Miss.; Isabel Ferguson, Waynesville, N. C., and Frances Lincoln, Marion, Va.

A feature of the Metropolitan program this week is the musical theme Enrico Leide has arranged for the picture. It is "Dear Little Boy of Mine," a popular song with a beautiful melody.

American purchases of New Zealand butter in 1923 amounted to approximately $3,500,000.

Good Seats Still Available

PHONE WAI 0595

Successful Popular Prices

NEXT WEEK

"In Love With Love"

LYRIC THEATRE ATLANTA

JOHN B. LITEL

— AND THE —

Baldwin Players

ALL THIS WEEK

2:30 P. M.

The Triumphant Success

"Nothing But the Truth"

Single and Season Reservations

On Sale at Box Office.

BOX OFFICE OPEN 10 A. M.

TO 10 P. M.

Good Seats Still Available

PHONE WAI 0595

Successful Popular Prices

NEXT WEEK

"In Love With Love"

PLAN TO WIDEN ROAD AT STONE MOUNTAIN

Houses with the ground floor divided into three rooms, each of which may be brought to the sunny side of the house as desired, have been built in Germany.

Keith's Supreme Vaudeville

FORSYTH

3 SHOWS DAILY—2:20—3:30—9:15

Mats., 25c-50c; Nights, 50c-60c

ALL THIS WEEK

National Vaudeville Artists' Week—Something Special Every Day

JOHN B. LITEL

FRANK SWOR & CONROY

The Pleasure Smokers

HIGGINS & BLOSSOM

With Horace Bently in "Sundance"

NEVINS & GORDON

"Horse Sense"

JEANETTE CHILDS

"The Joy Girl"

JEAN & VAL JEAN

"Oh You Charlie"

3 SHOWS DAILY—2:20—3:30—9:15

Mats., 25c-50c; Nights, 50c-60c

ALL THIS WEEK

National Vaudeville Artists' Week—Something Special Every Day

JOHN B. LITEL

FRANK SWOR & CONROY

The Pleasure Smokers

HIGGINS & BLOSSOM

With Horace Bently in "Sundance"

NEVINS & GORDON

"Horse Sense"

JEANETTE CHILDS

"The Joy Girl"

JEAN & VAL JEAN

"Oh You Charlie"

3 SHOWS DAILY—2:20—3:30—9:15

Mats., 25c-50c; Nights, 50c-60c

ALL THIS WEEK

National Vaudeville Artists' Week—Something Special Every Day

JOHN B. LITEL

FRANK SWOR & CONROY

The Pleasure Smokers

HIGGINS & BLOSSOM

With Horace Bently in "Sundance"

NEVINS & GORDON

"Horse Sense"

JEANETTE CHILDS

"The Joy Girl"

JEAN & VAL JEAN

"Oh You Charlie"

3 SHOWS DAILY—2:20—3:30—9:15

Mats., 25c-50c; Nights, 50c-60c

ALL THIS WEEK

National Vaudeville Artists' Week—Something Special Every Day

JOHN B. LITEL

FRANK SWOR & CONROY

The Pleasure Smokers

HIGGINS & BLOSSOM

With Horace Bently in "Sundance"

NEVINS & GORDON

"Horse Sense"

JEANETTE CHILDS

"The Joy Girl"

JEAN & VAL JEAN

"Oh You Charlie"

3 SHOWS DAILY—2:20—3:30—9:15

Mats., 25c-50c; Nights, 50c-60c

ALL THIS WEEK

National Vaudeville Artists' Week—Something Special Every Day

JOHN B. LITEL

FRANK SWOR & CONROY

The Pleasure Smokers

HIGGINS & BLOSSOM

With Horace Bently in "Sundance"

NEVINS & GORDON

"Horse Sense"

JEANETTE CHILDS

"The Joy Girl"

JEAN & VAL JEAN

"Oh You Charlie"

3 SHOWS DAILY—2:20—3:30—9:15

Mats., 25c-50c; Nights, 50c-60c

ALL THIS WEEK

National Vaudeville Artists' Week—Something Special Every Day

JOHN B. LITEL

FRANK SWOR & CONROY

The Pleasure Smokers

HIGGINS & BLOSSOM

With Horace Bently in "Sundance"

NEVINS & GORDON

"Horse Sense"

JEANETTE CHILDS

"The Joy Girl"

JEAN & VAL JEAN

"Oh You Charlie"

3 SHOWS DAILY—2:20—3:30—9:15

Mats., 25c-50c; Nights, 50c-60c

ALL THIS WEEK

National Vaudeville Artists' Week—Something Special Every Day

JOHN B. LITEL

FRANK SWOR & CONROY

The Pleasure Smokers

HIGGINS & BLOSSOM

With Horace Bently in "Sundance"

NEVINS & GORDON

"Horse Sense"

JEANETTE CHILDS

"The Joy Girl"

JEAN & VAL JEAN

"Oh You Charlie"

3 SHOWS DAILY—2:20—3:30—9:15

Mats., 25c-50c; Nights, 50c-60c

ALL THIS WEEK

National Vaudeville Artists' Week—Something Special Every Day

JOHN B. LITEL

FRANK SWOR & CONROY

The Pleasure Smokers

HIGGINS & BLOSSOM

With Horace Bently in "Sundance"

NEVINS & GORDON

"Horse Sense"

JEANETTE CHILDS

"The Joy Girl"

JEAN & VAL JEAN

"Oh You Charlie"

3 SHOWS DAILY—2:20—3:30—9:15

Mats., 25c-50c; Nights, 50c-60c

ALL THIS WEEK

National Vaudeville Artists' Week—Something Special Every Day

JOHN B. LITEL

FRANK SWOR & CONROY

The Pleasure Smokers

HIGGINS & BLOSSOM

With Horace Bently in "Sundance"

NEVINS & GORDON

"Horse Sense"

JEANETTE CHILDS

"The Joy Girl"

JEAN & VAL JEAN

"Oh You Charlie"

3 SHOWS DAILY—2:20—3:30—9:15

Mats., 25c-50

Only Complete
Closing ReportsCotton Traders Get Ready
For Possible May NoticesADVANCE IS SEEN
IN BOND MARKETNews, Views And Reviews

Stock Letter.

FENNER & BEANE.

New York, April 24.—Opinions are equally divided as to immediate course of market, but more people appear willing to buy on reasons than for some time past. Some good market judges still hold a higher level of prices toward the end of the month.

Cotton Letters.

GEVIS BROS. & CO.

New York, April 24.—The disposition of cotton traders here today seemed to be almost entirely monopolized by the evening-up of commitments in preparation for possible May notices tomorrow. There were other alterations of liquidation and covering which caused more or less interest, but the latter became more active toward the close and may be sold at 28.34. May advanced to 29.63 or 61 cents per higher. It closed at 29.55, the general list closing at net advances of 14 to 35 cents.

The market opened steady at an advance of 1 to 10 points on active trading in response to higher Livermore cotton, which was considerable and the favorable weather map and news off during the early part of the day. The market trading at 27.67 for July and 28.10 at 24.45 for October. The May premium narrowed to about 130 points, but at this difference the level was increased enough to sharp rallies and May was selling 145 points over July at the close. Much of the day's business was attributed to news of straddle accounts between near and late months. The late rally was accompanied by rumors that very few notices would be issued tomorrow.

SPOTS IN NEW YORK.

New York, April 24.—Spot cotton steady; middling 29.90.

MARKET QUIET.

AT NEW ORLEANS.

New Orleans, April 24.—The cotton market was quiet today with narrow trading except during the first half hour when fair buyers' activity definitely reflected in the first signs of a real, sharp advance could easily occur. We expect traders to be firmly established in the market by the time that is tendered will be well taken.

HUBBARD BROS. & CO.

New York, April 24.—Should favorable weather continue, the market will probably reflect in the first signs of a real, sharp advance could easily occur. We expect traders to be firmly established in the market by the time that is tendered will be well taken.

LIVINGSTON & CO.

New York, April 24.—It will probably be difficult to sustain advances unless the weather turns favorable. Men traders did not like new cold wave that appeared in the Pacific northwest this morning, preceding it might work down into the heat by Sunday.

E. NORMAN & CO.

New York, April 24.—It goes without saying that prices may be advanced very easily and continued improvement indicates that the market's movement of consequence is likely to be upward rather than downward.

C. HUBBARD BROS. & CO.

New York, April 24.—Should favorable weather continue, the market will probably reflect in the first signs of a real, sharp advance could easily occur. We expect traders to be firmly established in the market by the time that is tendered will be well taken.

LIVERPOOL FUTURES.

May 17, 1924, July 17, 1924.

REGULAR STATEMENT.

ATLANTA RESERVE BANK.

Statement of resources and liabilities Federal Reserve Bank of Atlanta at the close of business, April 23, 1924.

Resources:

Gold with federal reserve agent $113,663,170.00

U. S. treasury $3,605,963.11

Gold held exclusively against federal reserve account $116,970,133.11

Gold held exclusively against federal reserve board 9,114,484.00

Gold and gold certificates held by bank 7,107,831.50

Total gold reserves $103,193,086.61

Reserves other than gold 10,825,493.50

Total reserves $144,016,661.61

Non-current resources 5,707,359.10

Secured by U. S. government obligations 6,700,209.39

Other bills discounted 37,852,355.99

Total bills discounted 46,552,256.28

Total bills discounted 7,063,490.00

Treasury note of indebtedness 4,900.00

Certificates of indebtedness 72,000.00

Total U. S. government securities $ 215,409.00

Total earning assets $ 54,129,764.48

Received from U. S. government 26,508,480.00

Bank premises 1,762,514.32

Total resources $324,931,242.04

FEDERAL RESERVE STATEMENTS.

FEDERAL RESERVE STATEMENTS.

New Orleans, April 24.—Market quiet, 25 points up. Sales on the spot, 56; to arrive, 100; low middling, 27.98; middling, 29.88; good, 30.20; high, 30.50; receipts, 2,820; stock, 142,525.

COTTON STATEMENT.

FORT MCMURRAY.

New Orleans, April 24.—Market quiet, 25 points up. Sales on the spot, 56; to arrive, 100; low middling, 27.98; middling, 29.88; good, 30.20; high, 30.50; receipts, 2,820; stock, 142,525.

COTTON STATEMENT.

HAMILTON.

New Orleans, April 24.—Market quiet, 25 points up. Sales on the spot, 56; to arrive, 100; low middling, 27.98; middling, 29.88; good, 30.20; high, 30.50; receipts, 2,820; stock, 142,525.

COTTON STATEMENT.

HAMILTON.

New Orleans, April 24.—Market quiet, 25 points up. Sales on the spot, 56; to arrive, 100; low middling, 27.98; middling, 29.88; good, 30.20; high, 30.50; receipts, 2,820; stock, 142,525.

COTTON STATEMENT.

HAMILTON.

New Orleans, April 24.—Market quiet, 25 points up. Sales on the spot, 56; to arrive, 100; low middling, 27.98; middling, 29.88; good, 30.20; high, 30.50; receipts, 2,820; stock, 142,525.

COTTON STATEMENT.

HAMILTON.

New Orleans, April 24.—Market quiet, 25 points up. Sales on the spot, 56; to arrive, 100; low middling, 27.98; middling, 29.88; good, 30.20; high, 30.50; receipts, 2,820; stock, 142,525.

COTTON STATEMENT.

HAMILTON.

New Orleans, April 24.—Market quiet, 25 points up. Sales on the spot, 56; to arrive, 100; low middling, 27.98; middling, 29.88; good, 30.20; high, 30.50; receipts, 2,820; stock, 142,525.

COTTON STATEMENT.

HAMILTON.

New Orleans, April 24.—Market quiet, 25 points up. Sales on the spot, 56; to arrive, 100; low middling, 27.98; middling, 29.88; good, 30.20; high, 30.50; receipts, 2,820; stock, 142,525.

COTTON STATEMENT.

HAMILTON.

New Orleans, April 24.—Market quiet, 25 points up. Sales on the spot, 56; to arrive, 100; low middling, 27.98; middling, 29.88; good, 30.20; high, 30.50; receipts, 2,820; stock, 142,525.

COTTON STATEMENT.

HAMILTON.

New Orleans, April 24.—Market quiet, 25 points up. Sales on the spot, 56; to arrive, 100; low middling, 27.98; middling, 29.88; good, 30.20; high, 30.50; receipts, 2,820; stock, 142,525.

COTTON STATEMENT.

HAMILTON.

New Orleans, April 24.—Market quiet, 25 points up. Sales on the spot, 56; to arrive, 100; low middling, 27.98; middling, 29.88; good, 30.20; high, 30.50; receipts, 2,820; stock, 142,525.

COTTON STATEMENT.

HAMILTON.

New Orleans, April 24.—Market quiet, 25 points up. Sales on the spot, 56; to arrive, 100; low middling, 27.98; middling, 29.88; good, 30.20; high, 30.50; receipts, 2,820; stock, 142,525.

COTTON STATEMENT.

HAMILTON.

New Orleans, April 24.—Market quiet, 25 points up. Sales on the spot, 56; to arrive, 100; low middling, 27.98; middling, 29.88; good, 30.20; high, 30.50; receipts, 2,820; stock, 142,525.

COTTON STATEMENT.

HAMILTON.

New Orleans, April 24.—Market quiet, 25 points up. Sales on the spot, 56; to arrive, 100; low middling, 27.98; middling, 29.88; good, 30.20; high, 30.50; receipts, 2,820; stock, 142,525.

COTTON STATEMENT.

HAMILTON.

New Orleans, April 24.—Market quiet, 25 points up. Sales on the spot, 56; to arrive, 100; low middling, 27.98; middling, 29.88; good, 30.20; high, 30.50; receipts, 2,820; stock, 142,525.

COTTON STATEMENT.

HAMILTON.

New Orleans, April 24.—Market quiet, 25 points up. Sales on the spot, 56; to arrive, 100; low middling, 27.98; middling, 29.88; good, 30.20; high, 30.50; receipts, 2,820; stock, 142,525.

COTTON STATEMENT.

HAMILTON.

New Orleans, April 24.—Market quiet, 25 points up. Sales on the spot, 56; to arrive, 100; low middling, 27.98; middling, 29.88; good, 30.20; high, 30.50; receipts, 2,820; stock, 142,525.

COTTON STATEMENT.

HAMILTON.

New Orleans, April 24.—Market quiet, 25 points up. Sales on the spot, 56; to arrive, 100; low middling, 27.98; middling, 29.88; good, 30.20; high, 30.50; receipts, 2,820; stock, 142,525.

COTTON STATEMENT.

HAMILTON.

New Orleans, April 24.—Market quiet, 25 points up. Sales on the spot, 56; to arrive, 100; low middling, 27.98; middling, 29.88; good, 30.20; high, 30.50; receipts, 2,820; stock, 142,525.

COTTON STATEMENT.

HAMILTON.

New Orleans, April 24.—Market quiet, 25 points up. Sales on the spot, 56; to arrive, 100; low middling, 27.98; middling, 29.88; good, 30.20; high, 30.50; receipts, 2,820; stock, 142,525.

COTTON STATEMENT.

HAMILTON.

New Orleans, April 24.—Market quiet, 25 points up. Sales on the spot, 56; to arrive, 100; low middling, 27.98; middling, 29.88; good, 30.20; high, 30.50; receipts, 2,820; stock, 142,525.

COTTON STATEMENT.

HAMILTON.

New Orleans, April 24.—Market quiet, 25 points up. Sales on the spot, 56; to arrive, 100; low middling, 27.98; middling, 29.88; good, 30.20; high, 30.50; receipts, 2,820; stock, 142,525.

COTTON STATEMENT.

HAMILTON.

New Orleans, April 24.—Market quiet, 25 points up. Sales on the spot, 56; to arrive, 100; low middling, 27.98; middling, 29.88; good, 30.20; high, 30.50; receipts, 2,820; stock, 142,525.

COTTON STATEMENT.

HAMILTON.

New Orleans, April 24.—Market quiet, 25 points up. Sales on the spot, 56; to arrive, 100; low middling, 27.98; middling, 29.88; good, 30.20; high, 30.50; receipts, 2,820; stock, 142,525.

COTTON STATEMENT.

HAMILTON.

New Orleans, April 24.—Market quiet, 25 points up. Sales on the spot, 56; to arrive, 100; low middling, 27.98; middling, 29.88; good, 30.20; high, 30.50; receipts, 2,820; stock, 142,525.

COTTON STATEMENT.

HAMILTON.

New Orleans, April 24.—Market quiet, 25 points up. Sales on the spot, 56; to arrive, 100; low middling, 27.98; middling, 29.88; good, 30.20; high, 30.50; receipts, 2,820; stock, 142,525.

COTTON STATEMENT.

HAMILTON.

New Orleans, April 24.—Market quiet, 25 points up. Sales on the spot, 56; to arrive, 100; low middling, 27.98; middling, 29.88; good, 30.20; high, 30.50; receipts, 2,820; stock, 142,525.

COTTON STATEMENT.

HAMILTON.

New Orleans, April 24.—Market quiet, 25 points up. Sales on the spot

GEORGIAN TERRACE TEA-DANCE DRAWS MATINEE CROWD

Stars and Visitors Join In Gay Open-Air Event

Many of those who attended the Rigoletto matinee motored to the Georgian Terrace Thursday afternoon, following the performance of the Metropolitan Opera company at the auditorium, and thronged the broad porches, lounge and foyer of this famous rendezvous, where tea is served al fresco each year during opera week, on the matinee days.

Opera stars mingled with Atlantans and prominent visitors, all of whom enjoyed this wonderful open-air event.

No phase of opera week proves more charming and enjoyable, or more inviting than these tea-dances, which are especially suited to southern social life, and are gala events at the Georgian Terrace.

The tables were grouped about the terrace and in the lounge, which were decorated with vases of snapdragons, hyacinths, lilacs, poppies, roses and other fragrant spring flowers with a rich background of palms and foliage plants. Each tea table had a dainty cover of Madeira and was graced by a silver basket filled with the season's choicest blossoms. Warner's Seven Acers orchestra furnished a beautiful selection of music during the afternoon.

Congenial Parties.

Colonel William Lawson Pepl's guests included Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Hubbard, of Baltimore, Md.; Mrs. Stephen Watts, of Charlottesville, Va.; Mrs. W. E. B. Davis, of Birmingham, Ala., and a group of artists from the Metropolitan Opera company.

Mrs. A. W. Chase had as her guests, Mrs. Willard Chase, of Minneapolis, Minn.; Mrs. A. Roberts, of Mobile, Ala.; Mrs. E. S. Canfield, Miss Lois Wright, Miss Emily Roberts, Miss Drew Laurence, Miss Lillian Carter, Miss Mary Pedder and Miss Annie Peete.

Mr. and Mrs. George Walker had as their guests, Mrs. Howard Trimpt, of Glenridge, N. J., and Senator Metcalf, of Washington.

A delightful party together included Mrs. Ambrose Gaines, of Knoxville, Tenn.; Miss Frances Brown, of Rome; Mrs. Felton Jones, Mrs. Thomas Swan and Mrs. Stacy Ernest Hill.

Mrs. P. H. Jeter's guests were Mrs. Oscar McKenzie and Mrs. J. A. Hayes.

Mrs. E. H. Barnett had as her guests Mrs. J. M. White, Mrs. D. Y. House, Mrs. R. S. Fiske, Mrs. H. C. Heintinger and Mrs. J. M. Reed.

Mrs. Charles H. Hazel had as her guests, Mrs. Reed and Miss Mary Reed, Mrs. Charles Tway, Miss Jane Tway and Mrs. Beaman.

Mrs. W. B. Banks was hostess to a group of friends.

Benjamin Gigli and a group of

Miss Calloway Weds Mr. Kerr At Lovely Church Ceremony

The marriage of Miss Thelma Anna Calloway and Robert Spencer Kerr, taking place at 8 o'clock Thursday evening at the Woodward Avenue Baptist church in this city, was an event of social interest to a wide circle of friends in Atlanta, Georgia and the South. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Henry T. Brookshire, pastor of the church, in the presence of a large assembly of friends and relatives from the South and the North. The church was handsomely decorated for the occasion with palms, southern smilax and evergreens, and the alter in front of which the nuptial party stood, was banked to the ceiling of the edifice with palms. Tall floor baskets filled with palms, lilies and other choice lovely flowers were placed at intervals, and candleholders holding white burning tapers east a soft glow over all.

Wedding Music.

A program of wedding music was rendered on the organ by Miss Edith Anna Calloway, the maid of honor, and the organist, Mrs. Nellie Love Sargeant, Director of "Cantilene Nuptiale," Director of "Humoresque," and Wagner's "O Tho Sublime, Sweet Evening Star," from Tannhauser. Just before the ceremony Mrs. Albert H. Martin, a cousin of the bride, sang "I Love You" and "I'm a Prairie Ma" during the organ march announced the arrival of the bridal party, and during the ceremony MacDowell's "To a Wild Rose" was softly rendered. Mendelssohn's "Wedding March" was played for a recessional.

Rainbow Wedding.

First came the ushers, W. L. Strand, of Greenville, S. C., and A. H. Martin, of Atlanta, followed by the bridesmaids and groomsmen in the following order: Miss Cornelia Lee, of Marion, with Mr. Paul Queen, of Decatur; Miss Shirley Lorraine O'Brien and Louis Trotzler; Miss Alme D. W. Martin, Miss Sarah Elizabeth Bradley and Mr. William Callaway, brother of the bride.

Next came the matron of honor, Mrs. Olga G. Barfield, a cousin of the bride, with Mr. Thurman Thompson, another cousin, the best man, and the usher, entered the aisle proceeding directly to the altar. She was followed by Little Dorothy Reed Martin, ring bearer, the dainty daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Martin, who were a costume of flesh colored georgette, trimmed with tiny pink roses.

In the receiving line were the bride and groom, Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Callaway, Mrs. Kerr, the groom's mother, Mrs. Thurman Thompson, sister of the groom; Mrs. J. E. Braden, an aunt of the bride; Mrs. Virgil Lee Estes, Mrs. Thomas Braden, and Mrs. T. B. Lewis. Others assisting in entertaining the guests were Mrs. Charles P. O'Brien, Mrs. Albert Trotzler and Mrs. Roy Watson.

Mrs. Rosalind Murphy and Miss Gertrude Schepers presided over the punch bowl in the dining room and the enclosed porch. Miss Lois Manning, intimate friend of the bride, kept the bride's book, and her gown was of yellow georgette, bejeweled in style, trimmed with rare lace and turquoise blue velvet ribbon.

In the receiving line were the bride and groom, Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Callaway, Mrs. Kerr, the groom's mother, Mrs. Thurman Thompson, sister of the groom; Mrs. J. E. Braden, an aunt of the bride; Mrs. Virgil Lee Estes, Mrs. Thomas Braden, and Mrs. T. B. Lewis. Others assisting in entertaining the guests were Mrs. Charles P. O'Brien, Mrs. Albert Trotzler and Mrs. Roy Watson.

Mrs. Callaway wore a gown of crepe in pastel shades, all fastened alike, bonnet style, the skirts being plain with a band of cream point lace and silver ribbon alternating to the bottom of the hemline. The waists were plain basque style, with flat lace trimming. Handmade flowers in all the pastel shades decorated the waistline.

Mrs. Lee was in blue, Miss O'Brien in pink, Mrs. Braden in orchid and Miss Trotzler in pink. Each wore a band of rhinestones and carried a tweed bouquet of sweet peas, pink Ophelia roses and swansonia, shower effect, caught with tulle.

The matron of honor wore a gown of lace georgette, with a band of pink sheer tissue, the skirt being accordion pleated and fashioned with vertical bands of cream point lace on either side, and one in the center of the back. The bodice was finely tucked and trimmed with sprays of handmade flowers at the waist line. She wore a band of pearls and carried an arm bouquet of Ophelia roses, tied with tulle.

Mrs. Louis Trotzler, the bride's ma-

THE SOCIAL CALENDAR FOR TODAY

Giordano's brilliant opera, "Fedora," will be presented at the Auditorium this evening.

The Capital City club will give a formal supper-dance.

A supper-dance will be given after the opera at the Biltmore.

A tea-dance will be given at the Atlanta Biltmore from 4:30 to 6:30 o'clock.

Mrs. Holland Judkins will entertain at luncheon at the Biltmore in honor of her sister, Mrs. Louis Greene, of Washington, D. C.

Mrs. Cobb Caldwell will honor Mrs. Charles Dana at luncheon on Friday.

Mrs. Frank Inman will give a luncheon at her home on Peachtree road today in compliment to Mrs. A. C. Read, of Savannah, and Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Stewart, of Gulfport, Miss.

Mrs. R. L. Walker will entertain at bridge-tea in honor of Mrs. Joseph J. Schroeder, of Chicago, the guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. F. Noyes.

Mrs. Russell Porter will entertain in honor of Mrs. A. C. Read, of Savannah, at tea at the Piedmont Driving club.

Mrs. H. G. Davidson, of Atlanta, will entertain at luncheon at her home on East Sixteenth street, to compliment

Mrs. H. G. Davidson, of Winston-Salem, N. C., and Mrs. John Sabbotta, of Mt. Airy, N. C., prominent opera visitors.

The Atlanta Woman's club will entertain at an opera break-fast this morning at 11:30 o'clock, in the beautiful banquet hall of the club, in honor of W. L. Peel, president of the Atlanta Music Festival association, and the Metropolitan opera stars.

This afternoon Mrs. Clyde King will give a tea at her home in Dryden Hills for Mrs. Samuel Emmett Walters, the guest of Mrs. George C. Walters.

Mrs. Roy Collier will entertain at luncheon for Miss Marion Stearns, bride-elect.

Mrs. C. K. Ayer, will entertain at tea this afternoon at the Atlanta Woman's club in honor of her sister, Mrs. Roger Jones, of Selma, Ala., her guest for opera week.

Mrs. Enrico Leide will entertain at tea on Friday afternoon at her home on Inman circle.

Mrs. W. H. Johnston will give a reception at Fort McPherson this afternoon.

Mrs. R. L. Walker will entertain at bridge-tea in honor of Mrs. Joseph J. Schroeder, of Chicago, the guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. F. Noyes.

Mrs. Herbert Gorman will entertain at a bridge party at her home on Cascade road. The guest list includes twelve friends of the hostess.

Mrs. Paul Baker has invited six friends to meet her mother, Mrs. S. O. Ham, of Jacksonville, Fla., her opera guest, at tea at the Atlanta Biltmore.

Mrs. Lyerly Will Give Lecture.

Mrs. Louise Lyerly will lecture on Friday evening at 7 o'clock to students of philosophy. The subject will be "The Way to the Masters." The lecture is based on the teaching presented in the book, "At the Feet of the Master," by J. Krishnamurti. This book is considered the greatest book of its kind of the age by both literary and philosophical minds, and has been translated into every language.

The lecture is free and the public is cordially invited—313 Grand theater building.

College Set To Dance At Club de Vingt.

The Georgia Tech club will give a dance at the Club de Vingt, Peachtree and Third street, Saturday evening. The program features at Tech, Emory and Oglethorpe, and several hundred young girls of the college set have been invited to attend.

Opera Orchestra Artists Are Guests at Badgett Home

Mr. and Mrs. Mays Badgett entertained at one of the most interesting private affairs of the opera season Thursday night when their home on Highland View was opened to members of the Metropolitan orchestra and about 100 of Atlanta's professional musicians.

A most delightful feature of the occasion was the playing of chamber music by a string quartette composed of leading Metropolitan artists, Fritz Kreisler, first violin, V. Figueredo, second violin, D. Borges, cello and William Vacchiano, piano. Famous master-compositions by Handel and other old masters were rendered with a beauty of expression only attained when true artists are gathered together for sheer love of their art.

Delicious refreshments included salami, sandwiches and punch.

P.T.A. Fifth District Girl Scouts Council Will Meet Will Meet In Decatur Today

Many subjects of importance will be discussed this afternoon at the meeting of the fifth district council of the Parent-Teacher association at the Kirkwood school, Decatur. Delegates from all parts of the district are expected, as many have notified Mrs. O. M. Stanton, of Decatur, district secretary, of their intention to attend.

The legislative and kindergarten departments will hold a joint conference relative to taking measures to add impetus to the kindergarten movement throughout the state. Mrs. McRea will give a paper on "Immigration," as it is realized that that problem is one of the most serious facing the nation today.

Other speakers of note include Mrs. James J. Storrow, of Boston; Mrs. Lyman Delano, of New York; Dean Schlosser Arnold, of Providence; Mr. William Hoffman, of Providence, R. I.; Mrs. Frederick Edey, New York; Mrs. Nicholas Brady, New York; Mrs. Arthur O. Choate, New York; Mrs. Helen Sudder, Washington, D. C., and Mrs. Giles Whiting, New York.

Atlanta delegates and representatives will be announced later.

Dr. Hendrix To Speak at St. Mark's.

Dr. W. R. Hendrix will have charge of the 11 a. m. and 7:30 p. m. services at St. Mark's M. E. church, South Peachtree and Fifth streets, Sunday, April 27.

Dr. Hendrix was formerly pastor of St. Mark's for four years ending 1918. Prior to this charge he was for several years pastor of Wesley Memorial church.

Dr. Hendrix is now pastor of the Highland Methodist M. E. church, south Peachtree, Atlanta.

Dr. J. P. Mitchell, pastor of St. Mark's M. E. church, will conduct services in Dr. Hendrix's Birmingham charge on the same day, this being a mutual exchange to enable Dr. Hendrix to attend opera this week and to be with and enjoy seeing his many Atlanta friends and admirers.

Mrs. Hancock To Be Honor Guest.

Mrs. Albert S. Hancock, of Baltimore and New York, will be honor guest at an informal luncheon Thursday at which her sister, Mrs. Robert R. Wood, will entertain at her home on West Thirteenth street. Invited to meet the honor guest will be a small group of her intimate friends.

Guild Meeting Is Postponed.

The meeting of the guild of the First Methodist church which was to take place this afternoon has been postponed until Friday afternoon, May 2.

20 ABOVE ZERO That Protects Your Furs and Rugs Against Damage by Moths

John J. Woodside Storage Co., Inc.
239 Edgewood Ave. IVY 2036 ATLANTA, GA.

"Regenstein's Smart Hats" 1924

Regenstein's 52nd Anniversary Sale

"SPRING SALE"

FINE TRIMMED HATS

Regenstein's Models

HALF PRICE!

A GROUP of our fine Trimmed Hats (about 225 in the lot) selected from our large stock—New York Hats and Regenstein's models—many styles for all occasions, spring shades, navy, black and browns.

$18.00 TRIMMED HATS—THIS SALE	$ 9.00
20.00 TRIMMED HATS—THIS SALE	10.00
25.00 TRIMMED HATS—THIS SALE	12.50
30.00 TRIMMED HATS—THIS SALE	15.00
35.00 TRIMMED HATS—THIS SALE	17.50
40.00 TRIMMED HATS—THIS SALE	20.00
45.00 TRIMMED HATS—THIS SALE	22.50

On Sale Today Only!

NOTE: Store closes Saturday at 1 o'clock on account of Memorial Day

REGENSTEIN'S WHITEHALL STREET

"The Heart of Atlanta's Shopping Center" internal grandmother, wore brocaded crepe in sand color, with a corsage of violets. Mrs. A. H. Martin wore a sequin gown of black.

Mr. Hendrix's gown was of flesh-colored georgette, embroidered with crystal beads. She wore a corsage of violets.

Mrs. Bradley wore black charmeuse, embroidered in gold beads, with a corsage of red roses.

Mrs. Lewis wore black georgette, beaded with a corsage of violets.

Mrs. Louis Trotzler, the bride's ma-

Pitt M. and Edward Callaway, the Callaways being one of the pioneer families of Monroe county, well known throughout the state. On the maternal side, she is the great-granddaughter of the late Colonel and Mrs. W. J. Spears, of Atlanta, her mother before marriage being Miss Willie Spears. Colonel Spears was one of Atlanta's earliest residents and first practicing attorneys, professionally and personally well known.

Mrs. Kerr is the youngest son of Mrs. Estelle Kerr, of Decatur, and the

52nd Anniversary Sale

52nd Anniversary Sale

Mrs. Alston Gives Lovely Breakfast
For Mrs. Read

Mrs. Robert C. Alston entertained at an elaborately appointed breakfast Thursday at 12 o'clock at her handsome home on Andrews drive, the occasion honoring Mrs. Abraham Carrington Read, of Savannah, who is visiting Mrs. Russell Porter, and is one of the prominent visitors attending opera.

A cloth of Venetian lace covered the table, and the exquisite bowl of green Venetian glass held white lilies and varicolored tulips. Pink and white mints and bonbons filled the green glass compotes.

Mrs. Alston wore a gown of black Georgette crepe, richly embroidered in Oriental colors, and her black hat was trimmed with a rhinestone ornament.

Mrs. Read's gown was of black charmeuse and her black straw hat was trimmed with French flowers.

Mrs. Porter wore a gown of sand-colored Georgette crepe. Her hat of sand-colored Neapolitan straw was trimmed with French flowers.

Copies of Beauty Chats by Edna Kent Forrester were given to Mrs. Read, Mrs. Porter, Mrs. Stephen Watts of Charlottesville, Va., Mrs. George W. Connors of Birmingham, Ala., Mrs. William H. Kiser, Mrs. Charles E. Seiple, Mrs. Hugh Richardson, Mrs. William H. Kiser, Mrs. Robert F. Maddox, Mrs. William B. Lamar of Thomasville, and Mrs. Alston.

Beauty Chats
BY EDNA KENT FORRESTER

IS YOUR SKIN DRY?

Is your skin dry? Often women who go through a cold winter successfully, so far as complexion is concerned, find their faces chapped and rough when the weather turns warm. It may be spring comes in spring rather than in summer, but the skin is made less dry in the warm weather than in the cold.

Ordinarily cleansing cream is of no use if the complexion is dry, except that, applied before washing, it keeps the skin soft and dry. A light cold cream given here often is better, and any cream containing olive oil, almond oil, or a thorough massage with either of these oils will do good after the face has been steamed by holding cloths wrung from hot water over the face for a few minutes. By applying the cream this lets the skin in more easily, cleansing the skin and at the same time nourishing it and making up for the oils that has dried out. This is the most effective if done last thing at night, for then the oil left on the surface of the skin can be wiped off with a soft cream and it does not matter if the face is shiny.

Massage is most effective in treating a dry skin, because the rubbing of the fingers works the cream well down into the pores, and at the same time stimulates the action of the natural oil glands. Light massage can only be given with a soft cream. There is any number of creams on the market that are good for a dry skin, the various mixtures of almond and honey are excellent, and Vain milk, especially if it has a little cream in it, is very good indeed.

I am tempted once more to praise the art of massage. There is nothing better than oil, pure, hard for the skin, it feeds and it cleanses and works in with no trouble at all.

Distracted Sue—Sometimes a stubborn case of pimples is the result of infection in which the pimples themselves are the cause of the trouble, to determine whether such is the case, is to cleanse the system; therein usually lies the cause for the eruptions. If the trouble continues, try local and antiseptic treatment, such as ointment or powder in which there is sulphur.

Bonny T.—For the lines under your eyes, treat the tissues with astringent cream, but do not try to avoid wearing the glasses, while all the time you are needing them, you will only be making matters worse, your weight is normal at 120 pounds.

Tomorrow—High School Girl Problems.

All inquiries addressed to Miss Forrester in care of the "Beauty Chats" department will be answered in these columns in their turn. This requires considerable time, however, owing to the great number received. So if a person has a special problem, a stamped and self-addressed envelope must be enclosed with the question. The Editor.

PART-TIME SCHEDULE IS ADOPTED BY MILLS

Providence, R. I., April 24.—The Natick mills of B. B. & R. Knight, Inc., where operations were resumed Monday following a shutdown, will close Saturday and will not reopen until business conditions warrant. The Royal and Standard Oil Company, at River Point, and the Arctic Mill at Arctic, which are also operated by the same firm, will remain closed until the cotton textile trade condition improves. The Centreville mill of the same chain will operate on a part time schedule.

Lewiston, Maine, April 24.—Beginning today, the Bates Manufacturing company will operate its cotton mills here on a four-day schedule until market conditions improve. About 1,000 employees are affected.

The Barker mill in Auburn is spinning only three days a week but the looms are on a full production basis.

EXPLOSION OF BOTTLE
KILLS 1, INJURES 2

Birmingham, Ala., April 24.—Exploding of a bottle containing a liquid which police believe was nitroglycerine this afternoon caused the death of one West End boy and the injury of two others.

Two boys on the way to a ball game passed through a wood where they found the bottle, police reports said. One of them touched a match to the liquid to "see it burn." They were enveloped in flames.

Wallace Donaldson was instantly killed and William Burke was seriously injured. Leslie Tompkins was painfully hurt.

THE IDEAL WOMAN

Strong, healthy and beautiful in form and feature with a happy disposition. Upon her condition depends the physical well-being of all children and the happiness of those about her. It is only by making the best of herself that a woman can give her best to the world. When weak and failing there is one tried and true remedy, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs which for fifty years has been restoring the women of America to health and happiness.—(adv.)

Biennial Conventions Urged in Future
By Board of Federated Women's Clubs

Officers and members of the executive board of the Georgia Federation of Women's clubs assembled at the Thursday morning session of the board in their new headquarters at the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce. Reading from left to right, standing, are Mrs. W. H. Griffin, Mrs. Hubert Woy, Mrs. Lamar Rucker, Mrs. Oscar McKenzie, Mrs. Archibald P. Brantley, president of the federation, Mrs. A. H. Brenner, Mrs. B. M. Boykin, Mrs. H. D. Russell, Mrs. C. H. Kittrell, Mrs. G. A. Johns, Mrs. McCord Roberts. Seated are Mrs. D. S. Walraven, Mrs. J. E. McElroy, Mrs. H. B. Wey, Mrs. S. B. C. Morgan, Mrs. Bolling Jones, Mrs. Fulton Jones.

Biennial conventions, in place of the annual conventions which are now the custom, will be the rule of the Georgia Federation of Women's Clubs if the recommendation that this change be made become law in the next session of the legislature. This accommodation will come from the state executive board and decision to make it was an important feature of the closing session of the state executive board on Thursday morning. Mrs. Samuel Inman led in advocating the measure and urged its value as demonstrating the general federation's desire to do more for the state. Should change become effective by vote of the next convention a change in board meetings will probably follow as a logical consequence.

Suggestion that the number of annual meetings of the board be curtailed from 3 to 1 was made in the form of a resolution which called for longer and less frequent meetings. The consensus of opinion appeared to be in favor of two-day sessions for board meetings.

Convention Date.

A further change strongly advocated by leaders on Thursday had to do with holding the state convention in the spring instead of the early fall as is now done. The resolution in which this was set forth declared that by holding the annual meeting in the spring, before the district meetings, the officers and delegates of each district would attend their own district meetings and receive no reward meetings with the plans of the state organization fresh in their minds.

Endorsement of the bill to codify and improve the laws of Georgia affecting children was requested of the board by Mrs. Alonzo Richardson, Code commission, and given by the chairman of the Georgia Children's executive board, after being recommended by Mrs. Walter Hodges, chairman of the department of legislation in the state federation.

Mrs. Brantley announced the resignation of Miss Louise Dooly, state editor, and Mrs. W. C. Kellogg, chairman of the department of applied education, and many expressions of regret were voiced by those present.

Club Institutes.

Club institutes were talked by Mrs. H. D. Russell of Macon, and Mrs. Lamar Rucker, of Athens, chairman of the Mercer University and the Georgia University institutes. A scholarship at Mercer will be given to the organization having the largest attendance at the Mercer institute, according to Mrs. Russell.

Mrs. A. O. Granger was added to the group of vice presidents of the state present at the board meeting.

Mrs. E. M. Mayes, Macon, was chosen to preside over the organization on Wednesday. Members of the board who came for Thursday's session included Mrs. A. H. Brenner, of Augusta; Mrs. H. D. Russell, of Macon; Mrs. G. A. Johns, of Winder; and Mrs. H. B. Wey, of Atlanta.

which this was set forth declared that by holding the annual meeting in the spring, before the district meetings, the officers and delegates of each district would attend their own district meetings and receive no reward meetings with the plans of the state organization fresh in their minds.

Endorsement of the bill to codify and improve the laws of Georgia affecting children was requested of the board by Mrs. Alonzo Richardson, Code commission, and given by the chairman of the Georgia Children's executive board, after being recommended by Mrs. Walter Hodges, chairman of the department of legislation in the state federation.

Mrs. Brantley announced the resignation of Miss Louise Dooly, state editor, and Mrs. W. C. Kellogg, chairman of the department of applied education, and many expressions of re-

SOCIAL ITEMS

Miss Mildred Converse is ill at her home on Juniper street.

Mrs. William Jay McKeown and young son, William Jay, Jr., arrived yesterday from Princeton, N. J., to visit Mr. and Mrs. Mark Conner Pope and Mr. and Mrs. Orme Campbell. Mrs. McKeown, formerly Miss Isolene Campbell, of Atlanta, and she will be entertained at a series of informal parties.

Mrs. J. B. Petty and daughter, Sarah Elizabeth, of Dawson, Ga., left Thursday for their home after a visit with Mrs. H. N. Harrison on East North avenue.

Miss Norma Ester is being extensively entertained by friends in Boston, Mass.

Mrs. J. Willard Wren and little son, Billy Wren, of Charleston, W. Va., arrived Thursday to be the guests of Mr. and Mrs. William P. Martin at their home on West Peachtree street.

Colonel W. T. Gentry is improving after a serious illness at his home on West Peachtree street.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Gibson are convalescing after an illness of two weeks.

Miss Mary Quattlebaum and Annelle Bagwell, of Gainesville, are in the city attending grand opera.

Mrs. Reynolds Kirby-Smith, of Sun-wane, Tenn., is visiting Mr. and Mrs. Henry B. Tompkins at their home on East Seventh street.

The friends of Mrs. Syl Lester will regret to learn that she is at Davis-Fisher sanitarium suffering from a broken hip, the result of a fall last Monday.

Mrs. P. L. McMahon, of Charlotte, N. C., is visiting her sister, Mrs. Joe E. Covington.

Mrs. W. Halford, of New York, is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. B. W. Terrance at their home, 390 Ponce de Leon avenue. Mr. Halford is on his way home from spending the winter in Florida.

Mrs. Syl Lester is at the Davis-Fisher sanitarium suffering from a broken hip.

Mr. and Mrs. H. M. S. are visiting Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Mathis at the Ridley Court apartments.

Mr. W. H. Halford, of New York, is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. B. W. Terrance at their home, 390 Ponce de Leon avenue. Mr. Halford is on his way home from spending the winter in Florida.

Mrs. De la Fuente was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Richardson at the opera "Boris Godunoff."

Mrs. George Shepard entertained at bridge at her home on Highland Avenue Wednesday afternoon in honor of Mrs. E. P. Kiser, who is visiting her daughter, Mrs. C. J. Holditch. Miss Dorothy Holditch assisted in entertaining.

Mrs. and Mrs. Burbank Pike have returned to their home in New York after spending several days in Atlanta.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Harris announced the birth of a son, who has been given the name Robert, Jr.

Mrs. Frank Powell, of East Milledge, formerly of Atlanta, is the guest of Mrs. P. J. Farrell at 80 Alta avenue. Mrs. Powell was the honor guest at a party given last evening by Mrs. Fred L. Ingraham and Mrs. E. C.

Why Have Gray Hair?

No need at all to have even a trace of grayness, since Science has given us the clean, colorless liquid known as Kolor-Bak, which is a true substitute for the natural pigmentation.

Kolor-Bak quickly restores any gray hair to its original color.

The one clean, colorless liquid, as easy to apply as water, is for all shades.

It is amazing to see how quickly the former color returns. No dyed or streaky look, but the natural, uniform shade throughout.

"My Hair Was Quite Gray"

"Only a short time ago my hair was quite gray, but now it is black again. It was using My Kolor-Bak that I found out.

"Only a few applications of Kolor-Bak stopped the itching and dandruff, and gave me a new, healthy, young look. Most wonderful of all, however, is that my hair is again its original color. I look ten years younger."

(A True Letter)

Kolor-Bak
Banishes Gray Hair

Dealers Everywhere Sell Kolor-Bak With Money-Back Guarantee

DAILY CALENDAR OF WOMEN'S MEETINGS

The executive board of the Atlanta Woman's club will meet at the clubhouse this morning at 9 o'clock.

The regular meeting of the Ladies' Memorial association will be held this morning at 9:30, at the lodge at Oakland cemetery. The wreaths and garlands for Memorial Day will be made and every member is urged to be present.

There will be a baby health center conducted at Ira Street school today at 2 o'clock.

The Fifth District Council of Parent-Teacher Associations will meet at Kirkwood school at 10 o'clock.

The privilege of wearing knickerbockers on the streets has been granted to the women of Reedy, W. Va., a referendum vote showing a majority of 1 in favor of the women.

Camp Fire Girls now number more than 100,000 in this country and the membership will be at least 10 per cent greater by the time of the annual program of camping next summer, it is believed.

J. P. ALLEN & CO.

49-53 Whitehall

STATE BANKERS OPEN
GEORGIA CONVENTION

Augusta, Ga., April 24.—(Special) James S. Peters, president of the Georgia Bankers' association, called the thirty-third annual meeting of his body to order Thursday afternoon at the Bon Air-Vanderbilt hotel for a three-day session. Dr. E. L. Grace, of the First Baptist church, delivered the invocation and Judge Henry C. Hammond delivered the address of welcome. Dr. Joe P. Bowden, of Adairsville, responded.

Following the president's address, Walter W. Head, president of the Omaha National bank, Omaha, Neb., and president of the American Bankers' association, delivered an address and George R. James, member of federal reserve board, Washington, D. C., spoke on "The Federal Reserve System and its Service."

A number of state bankers arrived in the city during the morning and a special train from Atlanta over the Georgia railroad with bankers from that section of the state arrived during the afternoon.

The annual dinner to the five groups composing the Georgia Bankers' association was served at the Bon Air-Vanderbilt hotel tonight. J. Sherrard Kennedy, chairman of the executive council, was master of ceremonies. Around the members' table was a dance, the compliments of the Augusta Clearing House association, concluded the evening program.

AMERICUS MAN GIVES
HALL SITE TO MASONS

Americus, Ga., April 24.—(Special) W. E. Michael, American capitalist and farmer, today deeded to the several Masonic organizations here an easement on the business property at Forsyth and Cotton avenues. The easement permits the fraternity to own without restrictions the entire upper floors of the property formerly occupied by the Hotel Tea room.

The organizations named in the deed of gift are DeMolay Commandery, No. 42; Knights Templar; Wols chapter, No. 5; F. and A. M.; M. B. Council Lodge, No. 95; and Americus Lodge, No. 13; F. and A. M.

The Americus chapter, under its Eastern star is not officially named in the deed, but that organization will also use the property for fraternal purposes. The Masonic organizations announce the property is to be entirely renovated.

Central Lays Plans
To Handle Big Crop
Of Georgia Peaches

Macon, Ga., April 24.—(Special) The annual meeting of the officials of the Central of Georgia railway to plan for the handling of the new crop was held today in the office of Henry Baldwin, superintendent of the southwestern division. There were about 50 representatives of the road present including several of the general officers. Others included superintendents and trainmasters, agents from the largest towns in the state and representatives of the Fruit Growers' express, which handles the shipping of cars. Schedules were worked out and plans for expediting shipments were discussed.

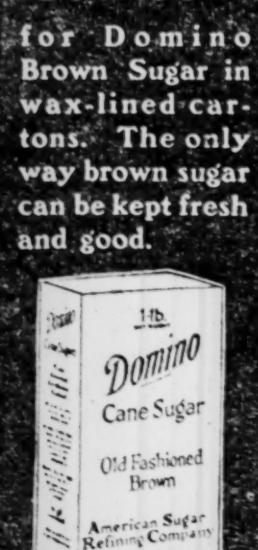

MACON TAX VALUES
SHOW $194,292 DROP

Macon, Ga., April 24.—(Special) Tax values for the city of Macon for this year show a decrease of $194,292 over last year, due to the decrease in the value of mills and the fall in the off of values from some of the other industries in the city. However, there will be little difference in the taxes to be collected by the city, officials say.

Returns for this year show personal property, $10,715,950; real estate, $6,275,000; personal, $2,400,631; total, $16,477,581; total for 1923, $16,967,148. It is estimated the city will receive $701,598.44 in revenue, or only about $3,000 less than last year.

SUMTER COUNTY GETS GAS TAX REVENUE

Americus, Ga., April 24.—(Special) Captain D. W. Wills, treasurer of Sumter county, has just received a general check from the state treasury department for $2,402.30, representing part of Sumter's share in the state gasoline tax revenue. Previously a similar check had been received for $2,100.64, and altogether this county has received $4,602.94 from this source. The money must under the state law be used for road purposes, and has already been turned over to the road department.

ask for Domino
Brown Sugar in wax-lined cartons. The only way brown sugar can be kept fresh and good.

Granulated.
Tablet, Powdered.
Confectioners, Brown;
Golden Syrup;
Cinnamon and Sugar;
Sugar-Honey; Molasses.
Sweeten it with Domino.

Closing Exercises
At Morris Brown
Will Begin Tonight

Morris Brown university is preparing for the most successful commencement exercises in the history of the institution.

Closing exercises will begin at 8 o'clock tonight with a concert by the senior class in the college chapel.

The baccalaureate sermon will be delivered Sunday by Rev. Charles E. Stewart, D. D., pastor of the Metropolitan A. M. E. church, Peachtree Street, D. C.

The annual address before the literary societies will be delivered Monday night by Rev. W. B. Lawrence, of Columbus, Ga.

The trustee board meets at 10 o'clock Tuesday morning. President J. T. Lewis will make his annual report of the financial condition of the university.

Tuesday night the annual address will be delivered in the college chapel by Rev. B. R. Holmes, president of the Holmes Institute, and an alumnus of Morris Brown, on the subject, "The Mission of the Alumni Association."

Prof. C. L. Harper will preside.

Wednesday morning commencement exercises will be held in Pethel A. M. E. church.

Bishop J. S. Flisper will preside and make the opening address.

This last shipment consists of two groups of Beluchistan rugs.

Epoch-Making
Prices on Oriental Rugs

It is a dull day that brings no fresh thrill in the rug market.

During the past few weeks we have offered Eastern rug values that have proved well-nigh sensational, but our latest shipment shows values that are, perhaps, the rarest ever seen in the South.

Now, indeed, is the logical time to purchase Oriental Rugs. Knowing that foreign exchange cannot long continue so greatly in our favor we are buying rugs in large numbers and thus making it possible for you to acquire them at a minimum price—at a price that marks an epoch in the rug market.

Prizes will be delivered by Dr. Andrew M. Soule at the conclusion of the contests. Saturday, after which athletic events will take place on Sanford field.

The champion debate and recitation contest will be held Friday night in the auditorium of the agricultural college. The contest for boys Saturday will include stock judging, corn judging and plowing, food, clothing and poultry judging contests will be participated in by the girls.

Prizes will be delivered by Dr. Andrew M. Soule at the conclusion of the contests. Saturday, after which the entire visiting body will be the guest of the college at luncheon.

This last shipment consists of two groups of Beluchistan rugs.

The texture of these rugs is of a remarkable silkiness. The colors have the double appeal of mellow tones and of being so true to the type that they might be called "Beluchistan" colors. Only the famous Bohkara rugs show similar tones.

Especially notable are the wearing qualities of Beluchistan rugs.

Most notable of all are the prices.

The rugs are found in two groups:

GROUP I
Rugs, sizes 3x6,
up to $32.50

GROUP II
The size of the rugs in this group is around 4x7 $42.50

The authentic rug from the Orient is an investment, increasing in value with the passing of time.

We believe that the "love of loveliness" exists in every heart. We have found particular pleasure in arranging a sale that makes it possible for you to gratify your love for loveliness in your home.

Rugs and Draperies—Third Floor

Chamberlin-Johnson-
DuBose Co.

Beautiful Opera Visitor

W.H. Taylor Elected
Gas Association Head
At Augusta Meeting

Augusta, Ga., April 24.—W. H. Taylor of Atlanta was elected president of the Southern Gas association for the ensuing year at its sixteenth annual convention in a three-day session at the Bon Air-Vanderbilt hotel, and either Wilmington or Wrightsville Beach, Ga., will be the next meeting place of the association. The date and place will be definitely decided by the executive committee later.

The first vice president of the association as elected at the close of the meet Thursday was Samuel E. Linton, Nashville, Tenn.; second vice president, Oscar H. Fox, Baltimore, and treasurer, George E. P. Connally, Charleston, S. C. Directors, Edward L. Heiba, Edward D. Brewer, John H. Hagerly and F. L. Marshall. Among the various committee reports made during the Thursday morning session and adopted was that of F. L. Marshall of Augusta, recommending the formation of a junior committee to be created and a quarterly report issued.

The purpose of creating the junior membership as outlined in the report and recommendation of Mr. Marshall is to bring younger men in closer contact with the older members of the association in order that they may be enabled to profit by the experience of the latter.

Before adjourning today members of the association finally completed the undertaking it began two years ago to underwrite a chair in gas engineering. Johns Hopkins University of Baltimore was selected two years ago as the institution to inaugurate the chair. The chair will be given to the University of Georgia, which embraces 15 southern states, beginning with Maryland, provides the funds for the work for a period of five years. Johns Hopkins will have the first full chair in gas engineering in this country. There are three other such chairs, two in Great Britain and one in Germany.

W. H. Taylor, elected president of the Southern Gas association at the closing meeting at Augusta today, is vice president and general manager of the Georgia Railway & Power company of Atlanta. He has been connected with the company in an official capacity for a number of years.

Miss Frances Brown, of Rome, a beautiful and charming opera visitor who is at the Georgian Terrace, and is chaperoned by Mrs. Felton Jones. Miss Brown is a niece of Mrs. Henry McDonald, of Rome, and is one of the most popular members of society.

300 Delegates Open
B. Y. P. U. Meeting
At Griffin Church

Resaca, Ga., April 24.—(Special) The second session of the Central State B. Y. P. U. train was derailed two and one-half miles north of here today, all cars leaving the track. Conductor Sam L. Vanover was slightly injured.

The train consisted of five cars, carrying mail and baggage only.

FITZGERALD STUDENTS PRESENT "KING COTTON"

Fitzgerald, Ga., April 24.—(Special) Invitations have been sent to the members of the 100 county by the Fitzgerald Chamber of Commerce, to attend a school pageant given by the second ward school students, entitled "King Cotton." The pageant will be presented Friday night. Miss Rose, teacher of expression at the high school, who is a graduate of Brenau, where a girl is said to have originated, is director.

Address and reports and election of officers will take place tomorrow.

Elaborate entertainment features have been planned. Colonel Archer spoke of the part plumbers can have in better civilization through better sanitary plumbing.

The first session opened this afternoon by E. Powell, former head of the Mercer Glee club, as director of the singing. Members of the local church entertained all visitors with an informal reception on the church lawn after the Thursday evening program. The convention will continue through Friday.

The second session of the Central State B. Y. P. U. train was derailed two and one-half miles north of here today, all cars leaving the track. Conductor Sam L. Vanover was slightly injured.

The train consisted of five cars, carrying mail and baggage only.

It is a dull day that brings no fresh thrill in the rug market.

During the past few weeks we have offered Eastern rug values that have proved well-nigh sensational, but our latest shipment shows values that are, perhaps, the rarest ever seen in the South.

Now, indeed, is the logical time to purchase Oriental Rugs. Knowing that foreign exchange cannot long continue so greatly in our favor we are buying rugs in large numbers and thus making it possible for you to acquire them at a minimum price—at a price that marks an epoch in the rug market.

This last shipment consists of two groups of Beluchistan rugs.

The texture of these rugs is of a remarkable silkiness. The colors have the double appeal of mellow tones and of being so true to the type that they might be called "Beluchistan" colors. Only the famous Bohkara rugs show similar tones.

Especially notable are the wearing qualities of Beluchistan rugs.

Most notable of all are the prices.

The rugs are found in two groups:

GROUP I
Rugs, sizes 3x6,
up to $32.50

GROUP II
The size of the rugs in this group is around 4x7 $42.50

The authentic rug from the Orient is an investment, increasing in value with the passing of time.

We believe that the "love of loveliness" exists in every heart. We have found particular pleasure in arranging a sale that makes it possible for you to gratify your love for loveliness in your home.

Rugs and Draperies—Third Floor

The Half-Time Wife

BY VIOLET DARE

Augusta, Ga., April 24.—W. H. Taylor of Atlanta was elected president of the Southern Gas association for the ensuing year at its sixteenth annual convention in a three-day session at the Bon Air-Vanderbilt hotel, and either Wilmington or Wrightsville Beach, Ga., will be the next meeting place of the association. The date and place will be definitely decided by the executive committee later.

The first vice president of the association as elected at the close of the meet Thursday was Samuel E. Linton, Nashville, Tenn.; second vice president, Oscar H. Fox, Baltimore, and treasurer, George E. P. Connally, Charleston, S. C. Directors, Edward L. Heiba, Edward D. Brewer, John H. Hagerly and F. L. Marshall.

Among the various committee reports made during the Thursday morning session and adopted was that of F. L. Marshall of Augusta, recommending the formation of a junior committee to be created and a quarterly report issued.

The purpose of creating the junior membership as outlined in the report and recommendation of Mr. Marshall is to bring younger men in closer contact with the older members of the association in order that they may be enabled to profit by the experience of the latter.

Before adjourning today members of the association finally completed the undertaking it began two years ago to underwrite a chair in gas engineering. Johns Hopkins University of Baltimore was selected two years ago as the institution to inaugurate the chair.

The chair will be given to the University of Georgia, which embraces 15 southern states, beginning with Maryland, provides the funds for the work for a period of five years. Johns Hopkins will have the first full chair in gas engineering in this country. There are three other such chairs, two in Great Britain and one in Germany.

W. H. Taylor, elected president of the Southern Gas association at the closing meeting at Augusta today, is vice president and general manager of the Georgia Railway & Power company of Atlanta. He has been connected with the company in an official capacity for a number of years.

Miss Frances Brown, of Rome, a beautiful and charming opera visitor who is at the Georgian Terrace, and is chaperoned by Mrs. Felton Jones. Miss Brown is a niece of Mrs. Henry McDonald, of Rome, and is one of the most popular members of society.

It is a dull day that brings no fresh thrill in the rug market.

During the past few weeks we have offered Eastern rug values that have proved well-nigh sensational, but our latest shipment shows values that are, perhaps, the rarest ever seen in the South.

Now, indeed, is the logical time to purchase Oriental Rugs. Knowing that foreign exchange cannot long continue so greatly in our favor we are buying rugs in large numbers and thus making it possible for you to acquire them at a minimum price—at a price that marks an epoch in the rug market.

This last shipment consists of two groups of Beluchistan rugs.

The texture of these rugs is of a remarkable silkiness. The colors have the double appeal of mellow tones and of being so true to the type that they might be called "Beluchistan" colors. Only the famous Bohkara rugs show similar tones.

Especially notable are the wearing qualities of Beluchistan rugs.

Most notable of all are the prices.

The rugs are found in two groups:

GROUP I
Rugs, sizes 3x6,
up to $32.50

GROUP II
The size of the rugs in this group is around 4x7 $42.50

The authentic rug from the Orient is an investment, increasing in value with the passing of time.

We believe that the "love of loveliness" exists in every heart. We have found particular pleasure in arranging a sale that makes it possible for you to gratify your love for loveliness in your home.

Rugs and Draperies—Third Floor

It is a dull day that brings no fresh thrill in the rug market.

During the past few weeks we have offered Eastern rug values that have proved well-nigh sensational, but our latest shipment shows values that are, perhaps, the rarest ever seen in the South.

Now, indeed, is the logical time to purchase Oriental Rugs. Knowing that foreign exchange cannot long continue so greatly in our favor we are buying rugs in large numbers and thus making it possible for you to acquire them at a minimum price—at a price that marks an epoch in the rug market.

This last shipment consists of two groups of Beluchistan rugs.

The texture of these rugs is of a remarkable silkiness. The colors have the double appeal of mellow tones and of being so true to the type that they might be called "Beluchistan" colors. Only the famous Bohkara rugs show similar tones.

Especially notable are the wearing qualities of Beluchistan rugs.

Most notable of all are the prices.

The rugs are found in two groups:

GROUP I
Rugs, sizes 3x6,
up to $32.50

GROUP II
The size of the rugs in this group is around 4x7 $42.50

PRESIDENT PRAISES WORK OF U.S. CHEMISTS

Washington, April 24.—President Coolidge, speaking at the white house today to members of the American Chemical society, declared the government fittingly "should acknowledge the debt that is due to the scientists and chemists who are devoting their lives to the search for truth."

"Yours is the profession of opportunity," the president told the chemists, whom he greeted from the south portico of the white house. "Many problems are still unsolved. If the future can be gauged by the measure of progress in the past, your contributions to the health, wealth and happiness of the nation will be of surpassing value to the American people."

"Our material progress depends upon the acquisition of knowledge and upon the wise and beneficial use of knowledge depends our permanent progress and prosperity. While it is everywhere acknowledged that the discoveries of scientific men have given to the world the foundation of modern industrial civilization, another contribution by them—the ideal of service—is perhaps of greater import to the nation and the world."

"The American chemist has always rendered that service to the greatest degree. During the world war, he forsook profit and gain to devote his entire energy toward the solution of the nation's problems of warfare."

"Modern life has become amazingly complex. We are enjoying comforts and advantages undreamed of a generation ago. These have become possible to a large measure through the knowledge and work of the chemical professional. Industrial progress, leading to, the knowledge of the elements in its processes. Each step by which the products of the soil, the forest and the air, are converted into commodities of every day life, requires the exact analysis and knowledge of the chemical engineer. Whenever nature's bounty is in danger of exhaustion, the chemist has sought for a substitute. The conquest of disease has made great progress as a result of your efforts. Wherever we look, the work of the chemist is raising the standard of our civilization and has increased the productive capacity of the nation. Waste materials, formerly cast aside, are now being utilized."

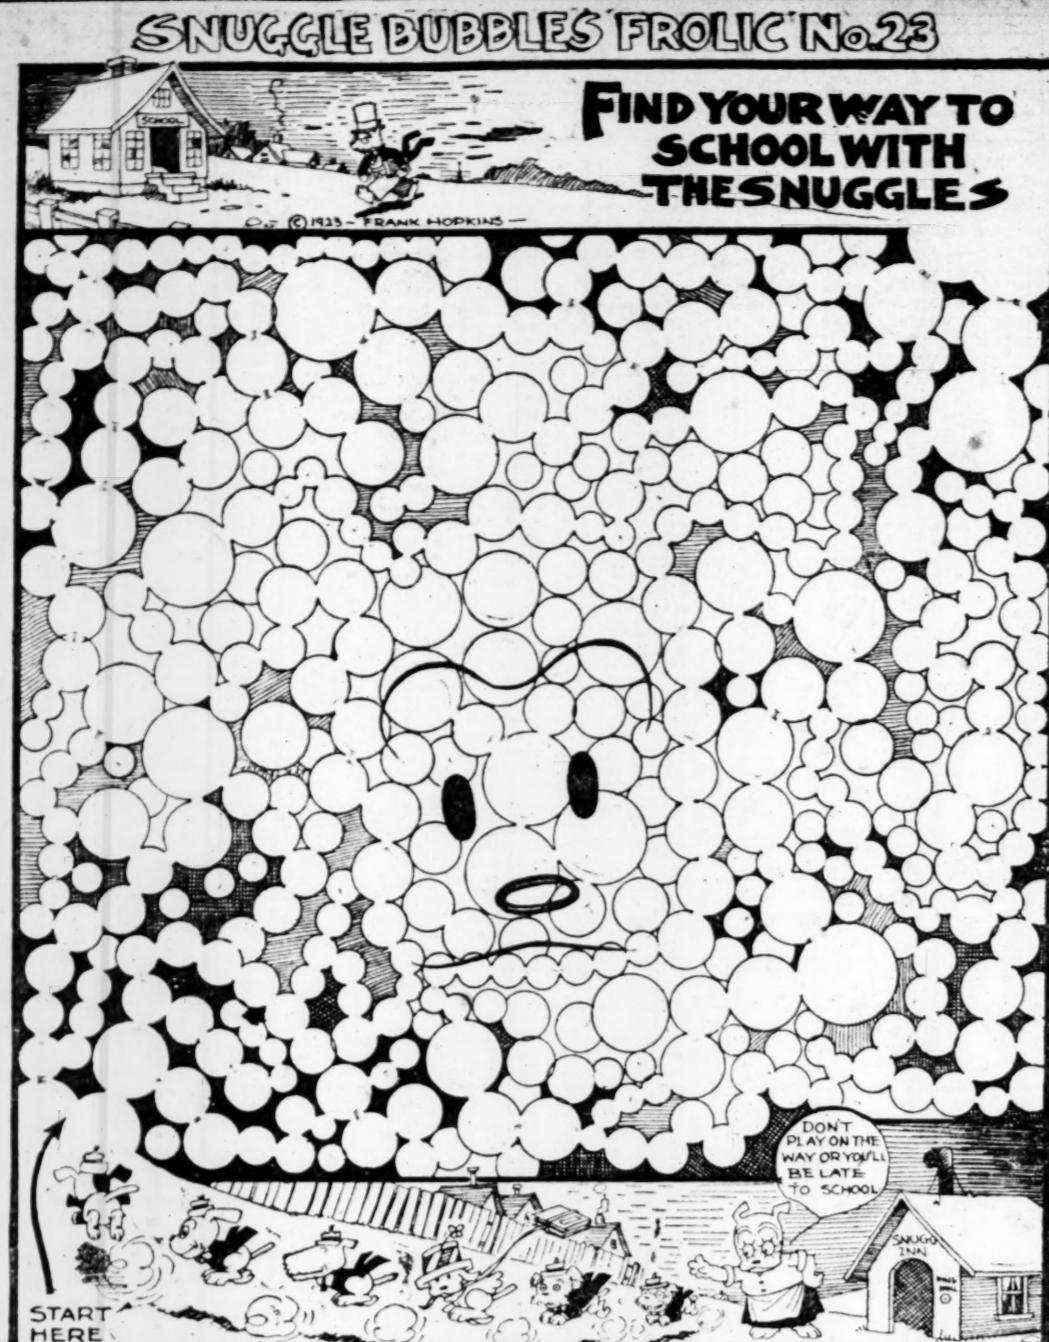

"The American chemist has proved himself second to none in scientific achievement under practical application. The world war brought vividly to our attention that our industrial chemistry had lagged behind that of Europe, but we are pleased to believe that this is no longer true. There are now, when we look, that Americans have not the patience to undertake the research work essential to develop new ideas in the chemical world, but the result emanating from American laboratories dispel this."

BORGUM MADE HONOR MEMBER MASONIC CLUB

Gutzon Borgum was elected honorary member of the Atlanta Masonic club Wednesday at the weekly meeting held in the Peacock cafe. Mr. Borgum is supreme high architect of the Atlanta. He is the architect of the Stone Mountain Memorial. Carter Helm Jones was principal speaker at the meeting.

3 STILLS DESTROYED IN WALTON COUNTY

Three whisky stills in Walton county were destroyed Tuesday by Federal Prohibition Agents. Sowell and Allgood, according to reports made to Fred D. Dismuke, federal prohibition director in Georgia.

Name _____ Age _____
Street No., or R. F. D. _____
Town or City _____ State _____

VIADUCT APPROACH ON HUNTER STREET READY BY MAY 10

Fairlie street from Marietta into the railroad yards and the Hunter street approach to the Spring street viaduct will be opened to traffic May 10, it was announced Thursday by Chief of Construction William A. Hansell.

Immediately after Fairlie street is opened, the MacDougald Construction company is to begin work on closing the Forsyth street underpass, working day and night to complete it by July 10. All three projects are part of the Spring street viaduct system, the main bridge of which was opened July 15.

Winners of Last Monday's Frolic Of Snugle Pups

The ten boys and girls named here were winners of the ten Snugle Pups given by The Constitution for the ten best answers on last Monday's Frolic of the Snugle Pups.

Merian Broach, 363 Oak street, Atlanta, Ga.,
Hugh Fitzgerald, 132 Flat Shoals avenue, Atlanta, Ga.,
John Wesley Binsfield, 8 Hope street, Atlanta, Ga.,
Elizabeth Kirby, North Eighth street, Opelika, Ala.,
Floyd Clegg, 276 Courtland street, Atlanta, Ga.,
Linwood Beck, 17 Evans drive, Atlanta, Ga.,
Charlotte Holbrook, 17 East Ninth street, Atlanta, Ga.,
Genevieve Clegg, Baldwin, Ga.,
Gartner Harris, care H. H. Harris, B. F. D., East Lake, Decatur, Georgia, Woodruff Brine, 208 Myrtle street, Atlanta, Ga.

The weather man's promise that he would give Atlanta fine weather for grand opera week, which has been made good to date, is scheduled to continue through today.

The prediction made by C. F. von Herrmann, in charge of the local office of the U. S. Weather Bureau, was for a fair day with temperatures rather higher than those of Thursday when the thermometer rose a trifle above 70 degrees. This is slightly below the normal mercury slightly below the normal mercury generally fair and comfortable prevail throughout the southern and eastern states, though considerable cloudiness is reported from Texas.

The prediction made by C. F. von Herrmann, in charge of the local office of the U. S. Weather Bureau, was for a fair day with temperatures rather higher than those of Thursday when the thermometer rose a trifle above 70 degrees. This is slightly below the normal mercury slightly below the normal mercury generally fair and comfortable prevail throughout the southern and eastern states, though considerable cloudiness is reported from Texas.

The weather man's promise that he would give Atlanta fine weather for grand opera week, which has been made good to date, is scheduled to continue through today.

The prediction made by C. F. von Herrmann, in charge of the local office of the U. S. Weather Bureau, was for a fair day with temperatures rather higher than those of Thursday when the thermometer rose a trifle above 70 degrees. This is slightly below the normal mercury slightly below the normal mercury generally fair and comfortable prevail throughout the southern and eastern states, though considerable cloudiness is reported from Texas.

The weather man's promise that he would give Atlanta fine weather for grand opera week, which has been made good to date, is scheduled to continue through today.

The prediction made by C. F. von Herrmann, in charge of the local office of the U. S. Weather Bureau, was for a fair day with temperatures rather higher than those of Thursday when the thermometer rose a trifle above 70 degrees. This is slightly below the normal mercury slightly below the normal mercury generally fair and comfortable prevail throughout the southern and eastern states, though considerable cloudiness is reported from Texas.

The weather man's promise that he would give Atlanta fine weather for grand opera week, which has been made good to date, is scheduled to continue through today.

The prediction made by C. F. von Herrmann, in charge of the local office of the U. S. Weather Bureau, was for a fair day with temperatures rather higher than those of Thursday when the thermometer rose a trifle above 70 degrees. This is slightly below the normal mercury slightly below the normal mercury generally fair and comfortable prevail throughout the southern and eastern states, though considerable cloudiness is reported from Texas.

The weather man's promise that he would give Atlanta fine weather for grand opera week, which has been made good to date, is scheduled to continue through today.

The prediction made by C. F. von Herrmann, in charge of the local office of the U. S. Weather Bureau, was for a fair day with temperatures rather higher than those of Thursday when the thermometer rose a trifle above 70 degrees. This is slightly below the normal mercury slightly below the normal mercury generally fair and comfortable prevail throughout the southern and eastern states, though considerable cloudiness is reported from Texas.

The weather man's promise that he would give Atlanta fine weather for grand opera week, which has been made good to date, is scheduled to continue through today.

The prediction made by C. F. von Herrmann, in charge of the local office of the U. S. Weather Bureau, was for a fair day with temperatures rather higher than those of Thursday when the thermometer rose a trifle above 70 degrees. This is slightly below the normal mercury slightly below the normal mercury generally fair and comfortable prevail throughout the southern and eastern states, though considerable cloudiness is reported from Texas.

The weather man's promise that he would give Atlanta fine weather for grand opera week, which has been made good to date, is scheduled to continue through today.

The prediction made by C. F. von Herrmann, in charge of the local office of the U. S. Weather Bureau, was for a fair day with temperatures rather higher than those of Thursday when the thermometer rose a trifle above 70 degrees. This is slightly below the normal mercury slightly below the normal mercury generally fair and comfortable prevail throughout the southern and eastern states, though considerable cloudiness is reported from Texas.

The weather man's promise that he would give Atlanta fine weather for grand opera week, which has been made good to date, is scheduled to continue through today.

The prediction made by C. F. von Herrmann, in charge of the local office of the U. S. Weather Bureau, was for a fair day with temperatures rather higher than those of Thursday when the thermometer rose a trifle above 70 degrees. This is slightly below the normal mercury slightly below the normal mercury generally fair and comfortable prevail throughout the southern and eastern states, though considerable cloudiness is reported from Texas.

The weather man's promise that he would give Atlanta fine weather for grand opera week, which has been made good to date, is scheduled to continue through today.

The prediction made by C. F. von Herrmann, in charge of the local office of the U. S. Weather Bureau, was for a fair day with temperatures rather higher than those of Thursday when the thermometer rose a trifle above 70 degrees. This is slightly below the normal mercury slightly below the normal mercury generally fair and comfortable prevail throughout the southern and eastern states, though considerable cloudiness is reported from Texas.

The weather man's promise that he would give Atlanta fine weather for grand opera week, which has been made good to date, is scheduled to continue through today.

The prediction made by C. F. von Herrmann, in charge of the local office of the U. S. Weather Bureau, was for a fair day with temperatures rather higher than those of Thursday when the thermometer rose a trifle above 70 degrees. This is slightly below the normal mercury slightly below the normal mercury generally fair and comfortable prevail throughout the southern and eastern states, though considerable cloudiness is reported from Texas.

The weather man's promise that he would give Atlanta fine weather for grand opera week, which has been made good to date, is scheduled to continue through today.

The prediction made by C. F. von Herrmann, in charge of the local office of the U. S. Weather Bureau, was for a fair day with temperatures rather higher than those of Thursday when the thermometer rose a trifle above 70 degrees. This is slightly below the normal mercury slightly below the normal mercury generally fair and comfortable prevail throughout the southern and eastern states, though considerable cloudiness is reported from Texas.

The weather man's promise that he would give Atlanta fine weather for grand opera week, which has been made good to date, is scheduled to continue through today.

The prediction made by C. F. von Herrmann, in charge of the local office of the U. S. Weather Bureau, was for a fair day with temperatures rather higher than those of Thursday when the thermometer rose a trifle above 70 degrees. This is slightly below the normal mercury slightly below the normal mercury generally fair and comfortable prevail throughout the southern and eastern states, though considerable cloudiness is reported from Texas.

The weather man's promise that he would give Atlanta fine weather for grand opera week, which has been made good to date, is scheduled to continue through today.

The prediction made by C. F. von Herrmann, in charge of the local office of the U. S. Weather Bureau, was for a fair day with temperatures rather higher than those of Thursday when the thermometer rose a trifle above 70 degrees. This is slightly below the normal mercury slightly below the normal mercury generally fair and comfortable prevail throughout the southern and eastern states, though considerable cloudiness is reported from Texas.

The weather man's promise that he would give Atlanta fine weather for grand opera week, which has been made good to date, is scheduled to continue through today.

The prediction made by C. F. von Herrmann, in charge of the local office of the U. S. Weather Bureau, was for a fair day with temperatures rather higher than those of Thursday when the thermometer rose a trifle above 70 degrees. This is slightly below the normal mercury slightly below the normal mercury generally fair and comfortable prevail throughout the southern and eastern states, though considerable cloudiness is reported from Texas.

The weather man's promise that he would give Atlanta fine weather for grand opera week, which has been made good to date, is scheduled to continue through today.

The prediction made by C. F. von Herrmann, in charge of the local office of the U. S. Weather Bureau, was for a fair day with temperatures rather higher than those of Thursday when the thermometer rose a trifle above 70 degrees. This is slightly below the normal mercury slightly below the normal mercury generally fair and comfortable prevail throughout the southern and eastern states, though considerable cloudiness is reported from Texas.

The weather man's promise that he would give Atlanta fine weather for grand opera week, which has been made good to date, is scheduled to continue through today.

The prediction made by C. F. von Herrmann, in charge of the local office of the U. S. Weather Bureau, was for a fair day with temperatures rather higher than those of Thursday when the thermometer rose a trifle above 70 degrees. This is slightly below the normal mercury slightly below the normal mercury generally fair and comfortable prevail throughout the southern and eastern states, though considerable cloudiness is reported from Texas.

The weather man's promise that he would give Atlanta fine weather for grand opera week, which has been made good to date, is scheduled to continue through today.

The prediction made by C. F. von Herrmann, in charge of the local office of the U. S. Weather Bureau, was for a fair day with temperatures rather higher than those of Thursday when the thermometer rose a trifle above 70 degrees. This is slightly below the normal mercury slightly below the normal mercury generally fair and comfortable prevail throughout the southern and eastern states, though considerable cloudiness is reported from Texas.

The weather man's promise that he would give Atlanta fine weather for grand opera week, which has been made good to date, is scheduled to continue through today.

The prediction made by C. F. von Herrmann, in charge of the local office of the U. S. Weather Bureau, was for a fair day with temperatures rather higher than those of Thursday when the thermometer rose a trifle above 70 degrees. This is slightly below the normal mercury slightly below the normal mercury generally fair and comfortable prevail throughout the southern and eastern states, though considerable cloudiness is reported from Texas.

The weather man's promise that he would give Atlanta fine weather for grand opera week, which has been made good to date, is scheduled to continue through today.

The prediction made by C. F. von Herrmann, in charge of the local office of the U. S. Weather Bureau, was for a fair day with temperatures rather higher than those of Thursday when the thermometer rose a trifle above 70 degrees. This is slightly below the normal mercury slightly below the normal mercury generally fair and comfortable prevail throughout the southern and eastern states, though considerable cloudiness is reported from Texas.

The weather man's promise that he would give Atlanta fine weather for grand opera week, which has been made good to date, is scheduled to continue through today.

The prediction made by C. F. von Herrmann, in charge of the local office of the U. S. Weather Bureau, was for a fair day with temperatures rather higher than those of Thursday when the thermometer rose a trifle above 70 degrees. This is slightly below the normal mercury slightly below the normal mercury generally fair and comfortable prevail throughout the southern and eastern states, though considerable cloudiness is reported from Texas.

The weather man's promise that he would give Atlanta fine weather for grand opera week, which has been made good to date, is scheduled to continue through today.

The prediction made by C. F. von Herrmann, in charge of the local office of the U. S. Weather Bureau, was for a fair day with temperatures rather higher than those of Thursday when the thermometer rose a trifle above 70 degrees. This is slightly below the normal mercury slightly below the normal mercury generally fair and comfortable prevail throughout the southern and eastern states, though considerable cloudiness is reported from Texas.

The weather man's promise that he would give Atlanta fine weather for grand opera week, which has been made good to date, is scheduled to continue through today.

The prediction made by C. F. von Herrmann, in charge of the local office of the U. S. Weather Bureau, was for a fair day with temperatures rather higher than those of Thursday when the thermometer rose a trifle above 70 degrees. This is slightly below the normal mercury slightly below the normal mercury generally fair and comfortable prevail throughout the southern and eastern states, though considerable cloudiness is reported from Texas.

The weather man's promise that he would give Atlanta fine weather for grand opera week, which has been made good to date, is scheduled to continue through today.

The prediction made by C. F. von Herrmann, in charge of the local office of the U. S. Weather Bureau, was for a fair day with temperatures rather higher than those of Thursday when the thermometer rose a trifle above 70 degrees. This is slightly below the normal mercury slightly below the normal mercury generally fair and comfortable prevail throughout the southern and eastern states, though considerable cloudiness is reported from Texas.

The weather man's promise that he would give Atlanta fine weather for grand opera week, which has been made good to date, is scheduled to continue through today.

The prediction made by C. F. von Herrmann, in charge of the local office of the U. S. Weather Bureau, was for a fair day with temperatures rather higher than those of Thursday when the thermometer rose a trifle above 70 degrees. This is slightly below the normal mercury slightly below the normal mercury generally fair and comfortable prevail throughout the southern and eastern states, though considerable cloudiness is reported from Texas.

The weather man's promise that he would give Atlanta fine weather for grand opera week, which has been made good to date, is scheduled to continue through today.

The prediction made by C. F. von Herrmann, in charge of the local office of the U. S. Weather Bureau, was for a fair day with temperatures rather higher than those of Thursday when the thermometer rose a trifle above 70 degrees. This is slightly below the normal mercury slightly below the normal mercury generally fair and comfortable prevail throughout the southern and eastern states, though considerable cloudiness is reported from Texas.

The weather man's promise that he would give Atlanta fine weather for grand opera week, which has been made good to date, is scheduled to continue through today.

The prediction made by C. F. von Herrmann, in charge of the local office of the U. S. Weather Bureau, was for a fair day with temperatures rather higher than those of Thursday when the thermometer rose a trifle above 70 degrees. This is slightly below the normal mercury slightly below the normal mercury generally fair and comfortable prevail throughout the southern and eastern states, though considerable cloudiness is reported from Texas.

The weather man's promise that he would give Atlanta fine weather for grand opera week, which has been made good to date, is scheduled to continue through today.

The prediction made by C. F. von Herrmann, in charge of the local office of the U. S. Weather Bureau, was for a fair day with temperatures rather higher than those of Thursday when the thermometer rose a trifle above 70 degrees. This is slightly below the normal mercury slightly below the normal mercury generally fair and comfortable prevail throughout the southern and eastern states, though considerable cloudiness is reported from Texas.

The weather man's promise that he would give Atlanta fine weather for grand opera week, which has been made good to date, is scheduled to continue through today.

The prediction made by C. F. von Herrmann, in charge of the local office of the U. S. Weather Bureau, was for a fair day with temperatures rather higher than those of Thursday when the thermometer rose a trifle above 70 degrees. This is slightly below the normal mercury slightly below the normal mercury generally fair and comfortable prevail throughout the southern and eastern states, though considerable cloudiness is reported from Texas.

The weather man's promise that he would give Atlanta fine weather for grand opera week, which has been made good to date, is scheduled to continue through today.

The prediction made by C. F. von Herrmann, in charge of the local office of the U. S. Weather Bureau, was for a fair day with temperatures rather higher than those of Thursday when the thermometer rose a trifle above 70 degrees. This is slightly below the normal mercury slightly below the normal mercury generally fair and comfortable prevail throughout the southern and eastern states, though considerable cloudiness is reported from Texas.

The weather man's promise that he would give Atlanta fine weather for grand opera week, which has been made good to date, is scheduled to continue through today.

The prediction made by C. F. von Herrmann, in charge of the local office of the U. S. Weather Bureau, was for a fair day with temperatures rather higher than those of Thursday when the thermometer rose a trifle above 70 degrees. This is slightly below the normal mercury slightly below the normal mercury generally fair and comfortable prevail throughout the southern and eastern states, though considerable cloudiness is reported from Texas.

The weather man's promise that he would give Atlanta fine weather for grand opera week, which has been made good to date, is scheduled to continue through today.

The prediction made by C. F. von Herrmann, in charge of the local office of the U. S. Weather Bureau, was for a fair day with temperatures rather higher than those of Thursday when the thermometer rose a trifle above 70 degrees. This is slightly below the normal mercury slightly below the normal mercury generally fair and comfortable prevail throughout the southern and eastern states, though considerable cloudiness is reported from Texas.

The weather man's promise that he would give Atlanta fine weather for grand opera week, which has been made good to date, is scheduled to continue through today.

The prediction made by C. F. von Herrmann, in charge of the local office of the U. S. Weather Bureau, was for a fair day with temperatures rather higher than those of Thursday when the thermometer rose a trifle above 70 degrees. This is slightly below the normal mercury slightly below the normal mercury generally fair and comfortable prevail throughout the southern and eastern states, though considerable cloudiness is reported from Texas.

The Honorable Mr. Bing

BY HORATIO LANKFORD KING

Continued From Yesterday.

"How are you looking at it?"
"Generously, as you know you are, Rosa. Generosity is your middle name, anyway. Your sympathies are deep and always kind."

She smiled.
"Thank you, Beverly. Of course Mr. Strather is rather egotistical, but he's very nice at that. He'll make a fine and attentive husband for Ruth, and he worships her. That pipe—it's just one of his jokes. He tells it to everybody, because, wandering around the world so much, he's felt prehistoric himself. But it's such a welcome change for him. He can't yet believe his senses, and that's why—haven't you noticed how nervous he is?"

"With his arms and legs, yes—and that pipe. Excess motion, any way, if not emotion."

"He spins his legs that way because he really would like to jump up and dance his emotions off," explained Rosa sweetly. "Ruth understands—women always do. It's not the pipe, really. He's just on pins and needles waiting for that preacher to come. And think what the courageous Ruth is doing, sacrificing her individuality and all, to follow Mr. Strather back to South America and live in the wilds of Patagonia."

"But she wants to," defended Mr. Bing.

"Yes," answered Rosa. "Any woman does—if she loves."

"Would you have gone to South America with a poor duffer like Strather?"

"Not him, but perhaps."

"Do you know any man you might be glad to go away with like that, to the ends of the earth, Rosa?" stammered Mr. Bing. "Some poor, impoverished duffer, if you were that crazy? Think of all that you are, all the money and comforts you have, all the opportunities—and then think of something more insignificant than a geologist and ten thousand times worse than Patagonia, if you can. That kind of man?"

"Have you any particular man in mind?" quizzed Rosa archly.

"I? Certainly not. I had nobody in mind, of course not," hastened Mr. Bing. "And for that matter, I can't see that Ruth is sacrificing her individuality by marrying Mr. Strather. Seems to me she'll just absorb him."

"Well, that's the only feature I don't like about Ruth and Mr. Strather," said Rosa. "I don't want a man I could entirely absorb. I'd like to be absorbed a little myself."

"But, Rosa, you'll never find the man with the brain and personality who could do that—absorb you," said Mr. Bing skeptically. "The idea is fantastic, positively irreverent—absorbing you! It's a vain ambition, and more than vain because you don't mean it."

"Well, I would like to become absorbed in somebody else whether you believe it or not," returned Rosa with mock malice. "I am thinking of it very seriously. And I mean to give the man an answer very soon. I think Ruth's marriage is going to hasten me. I'd go to South America myself—Australia—anywhere. I'd go to Africa!"

"Then there is a man?" said Mr. Bing with pale lips. "My God, leave me, Rosa. I hadn't suspected it. I hadn't dreamt it—of you! But why not? You have always had your pick of thousands of men, I know. Surprised that way, I just got the idea you wouldn't ever just for that reason. Please leave me, Rosa—going to give you answer very soon, my God!" He couldn't meet her eyes. It was as if a volt out of clear skies had hit him, and Rosa was hoping another volt would shake him up worse. Her smile was more than malicious.

"I thought I might as well tell you, Beverly, even though there's nothing between us of course I'm—I believe I am almost happy over the decision I've made. A woman never really knows why she loves a man, and I don't know why I love one. But I do. And I would rather have him than have Mr. Strather. I think he is a finer man, though I don't like Mr. Strather at all."

"Yes—yes. Certainly, Rosa. He must be a fine man—is, I am sure. Certainly he is," and Mr. Bing mopped his face with his handkerchief nervously. "The only kind you'd pick, surely."

"Indeed, yes," said Rosa as if they quarreled over the matter. "I wouldn't make any difference if you didn't approve of him, Beverly—he cause I know you don't."

"I know him then?"

"In a way you do, but not to any advantage. But one of the days you will understand him as I understand him—always have understood him. He is perfectly wonderful."

"That's enough. Don't tell me any

Noozie

THE LAST WORD IN TOUGH LUCK IS TO REMEMBER A NICE JUICY EXEMPTION A MONTH AFTER YOUR INCOME TAX IS FILED!

ELEPHANT'S TUSKS
GEE, ARE USED IN THE TRAN ANIMALS
MAKING OF BILLARD
BALLS
TO DO ANYTHING

stuff's little parlor, and persuaded her to sit down and get herself calm. He became a sort of ministering angel. Her sobs continuing, he went to the kitchen—kitchenette it was, rather—such as accommodations as an old New York hotel. He had brewed her some tea. Having brewed tea for himself for many years in his little room above the vaudeville house back in Atlanta, naturally he brewed good tea. It was a thrill to place the cup and saucer on a small tray and carry it with it to the parlor where Rosa still crouched in a chair, sobbing.

"Beverly!" she cried, gratefully, when he gently nudged her and she lifted her head and saw the tea. "It's so wonderful of you. Not one man in a million would have thought of that—could have done it. But I am going to heed Ruth's warning, and never marry one of the brutes. I've fought them off this long, and I can go on fighting them off!"

"Support?" cried Rosa indignantly. "Why I wouldn't have that kind of man!" But no sooner did she get the words out than she was sorry, for she had some other man in mind, and she had been thinking but a short while before she had made up her mind to marry, "don't do it, Rosa. It's foolish."

Rosa, forgetting her fear of men, and for the moment not thinking why Mr. Bing should so readily agree with her, was both surprised and piqued. She looked at him resentfully over her tea cup.

"But if a man has gift he will eventually succeed without another's monetary help," said Mr. Bing. "If he has gift, Is that the kind of man you have selected, Rosa?"

"Yes, Beverly, it is. Only lately have I realized how wonderfully gifted he is. And thinking of it, I feel poor in comparison. He has a mind and character that grows on one—they are so solid, so much like living granite."

Mr. Bing stood above her for several moments in pained silence. "Oh, well," he said at last, "I hope it's true. For your sake, I hope it's true. For your sake, I hope it's true. For your sake, I hope it's true. I have great gifts. You are a magnificent giant in a way—a—a—yes—a mental plesiosaurus—huge!"

"Fiddle-fiddle!" answered Rosa, more indignant than ever. "You have great gifts. Beverly, you are a magnificient giant in a way—a—a—yes—a mental plesiosaurus—huge!"

"A plesiosaurus is a fossil," corrected Mr. Bing solemnly. "There isn't one alive. There isn't even a whole one, corpse even, in a museum."

"You are going to write some wonderful books," asserted Rosa vehemently. "All kinds of brainy books—to make doubters sit up and take notice. Yes, indeed. Travel books, too. Wonderful travel books!"

"Travel books?" He stared at her in amazement.

"Yes, but—"

"And, your speeches elected them. They climbed up on your own pegs, and rode to victory, didn't they? And one note you wrote for that struck him. Camright said congress didn't it?" she went on excitedly. I heard him deliver it at the auditorium in Atlanta, and I knew you had written it. I wanted to jump up in the audience and scream, 'That's Beverly's, every word you are saying. Albert Camright. Your name's Camright, but you didn't come right by that speech! Continued Tomorrow.

By Hayward

SOMEBODY'S STENOG—The Plight of the Last Witness

WINNIE WINKLE

THE BREADWINNER

And That's No Mistake

GASOLINE ALLEY—WALT AND PHYLLIS COME TO A MISUNDERSTANDING

MOON MULLINS—NO, SIR, THEY CAN'T GYP MOON

